City Government to Cost More In '56 States Mayor Inaugural Address of Mayor Calls Pension Costs 'Truly Staggering'—Pay Plan Asked

Before a gathering of several hundred citizens, Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr. began his second term as the city's mayor Monday afternoon with a report that the city probably will have to spend more money in 1956 despite increased efficiency in running the government.

WHITMORE was sworn in for his second two-year term by Superior Court Judge Paul G. Kirk at the 3 o'clock ceremonies held in the aldermanic chamber at City Hall. Also sworn in at the ceremonies were members of the Board of Aldermen and the School Committee who were given the oath of office by the mayor.

In his inaugural speech, Whitmore said that preliminary department budgets indicate increased expenses for this year. Pension costs are becoming

Little Miss Prosser Is First Born of New Year

Little "Miss Newton" of 1956 arrived at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital at 1:30 a.m. New Year's morning, January 1. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Prosser of 17 Crescent street, West Newton.

FOR BEING the first baby born at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital of Newton parents, little Miss Prosser has obtained for her mother and dad, as well as herself, gifts from the merchants of Newton.

Miss Prosser's advent into the world of today gives the girls a commanding lead in The Graphic's annual stork derby. Including Miss Prosser, the girls now lead the boys in this contest by a margin of four to two as the sixth annual contest comes to a close.

AMONG the gifts which the birth of little Miss Prosser won are: 5 cases of baby food from the Waban Market; one Sacke Set from Small Fry, Inc.; a complete sewing kit from Mor Real

Sewing Machine Company; a one year's subscription to The Newton Graphic; a beautiful imported candy dish from the Waban Antique & Country Store; two beautiful sweaters, one for baby and one for mother, from Greenfield's; five cases of strained Beechnut Baby Foods from the Newton Centre Market; theatre tickets for Mom and Dad from the Paramount Theatre; an automatic Savings Bank for baby's personal account, from the West Newton Savings Bank; a surprise gift from Hubbard Drug Company; an eight piece infant's Layette from Troy Knitwear; a $5.00 gift pass book for baby's personal account from the Auburndale Co-operative Bank; a free lubrication for the family car from Larry's Shell Station; a beautiful Chatham baby blanket from Parke Snow; a lovely potted plant from Eastman's Flower Shop; a Sunbeam

Five Cent Hour Increase Given Hourly Employees

At a meeting of the board of aldermen following the inaugural ceremonies Monday, a five cent an hour increase in pay for city employees was approved.

HELD IN the Finance Committee for further study was the proposed wage and salary classification pay for all employees, except School Department personnel, which Mayor Whitmore recommended as the result of a long study held over a year with the cooperation of the Citizens' Personnel Advisory Committee and an Employees' Committee.

At the same time the Board appropriated $12,855.40 in advance of the budget to defray the cost of the increase for hourly employees. Among the recommendations held in committee was a $104 yearly increase for salaried employees which may be made retroactive to January 1 when approved. Increases to employees on an hourly rate cannot be made retroactive; therefore, the action was taken on that part of the plan Monday.

THE BOARD also approved the borrowing in anticipation of taxes for 1956 of an amount up to $5,000,000. In advance of the budget the Board also voted $300 to compensate Mrs. Ebba C. Cullen for her additional duties as acting Comptroller of Accounts at $1200 per year, for payment until March 31.

Christmas Seal Fund Still In Need of $3000

The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association reports that from opening day through the 31st of December, the 1955 Christmas Seal Sale returns amount to $17,013.65. This sum is $3,000 short of the Association's goal. Although Christmas is over, the Christmas Seal Sale is still officially in progress, and reminders are now being sent to those people who have not yet answered the Christmas Seal letter.

THE ASSOCIATION has appealed directly to only 18,734 people (about 20% of our population) this year, so it is hoped that as many of these people as possible will help to support the Association's year-round programs of health education, case finding, rehabilitation and medical research to fight tuberculosis in Newton.

AS OF December 31, 8,406 December 31, 8,406 people had not yet answered the Association's Seal Sale letter. It is hoped that most of these people have simply postponed their answers and that many of them will respond to the reminders. It is also hoped that any persons who have already contributed and who may through a clerical error receive a reminder notice will understand and will ignore the reminder. Often, too, contributions are mailed in just as the reminders reach people who have contributed.

Contributions should be mailed to the Association at 1357 Washington street, West Newton.

D. F. Farrington Of This City Is The Purchaser

Norumbega Park and its equally famous Totem Pole Ballroom, located in the Auburndale section of the city, changed hands Tuesday when Roy Gill signed documents selling them to Douglas F. Farrington.

GILL is retiring from active business but will continue as advisor to Farrington. The same managerial policies and tradition of the 59 year old institution will be continued by the latter.

The park has been under only two owners since it was established in 1883 by the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway and was taken over by Gill in 1939, making vast improvements since that time.

Farrington was born in Newton and has continued to reside here with his wife and three children. After serving for three years in the Navy on a destroyer in the Pacific war zone, he matriculated at Babson Institute. Upon his graduation, he entered the real estate business in Boston but will now devote his full time exclusively to the park and ballroom operation.

HE IS GREATLY interested in community affairs and is active in youth organizations. He is a member of the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce, Boston Real Estate Board, Longwood Cricket Club and the University Club.

With Gill as his advisor, Farrington will continue the policy of not permitting alcoholic beverages in the park or ballroom. Dancing will continue every Friday and Saturday for couples only at Totem Pole Ballroom, where almost every big name orchestra, singer and television star has appeared.

ALTHOUGH the park and its equipment are most attractive, Farrington will continue Gill's progressive attitude with many innovations planned, such as air-conditioning the ballroom.

Negotiations for the transfer of the property were handled by Harvey R. Moulton, vice president of F. P. Morgan Company, Boston, and conveyed by the law firm of Peabody, Koufman & Brewer.

Police Census Is Now Under Way

Police listing of residents, 20 years of age and over, started Tuesday. A dozen officers are devoting their full time to the task until the work is completed. Capt. Charles E. Walker has announced.

THE WORK will be carried on on weekdays from 7:45 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., until all of the 65,000 cards are completed. In addition, the listers will record the number of pre-school children in each family for the information of the School Department.

Sgt. William J. Bell is in charge of the listing crew, which comprises Patrolmen Francis M. Devito, Charles E. Duffy, Joseph E. LaCroix, Robert F. Mahoney, Richard J. Nugent, Eugene E. Paolletti, Thomas M. Dargan, Salvatore Arico, Edward J. Foley, Jr., Manley J.

New Jury List Contains 1026 Names, Largest Yet

According to City Clerk Monte Basbas, the new 1955-56 jury list for the city contains 1,026 names, the largest such list ever prepared by the Registrars of Voters.

Based on a city population of 86,434, the minimum number on the list under the General Laws would be 865, or one for each 1,000 population. The list was compiled from 2,300 questionnaires, mailed out to voters by the city clerk. Each of the residents on the list was checked by the Police Department and 22 names were rejected because of police records, the City Clerk reported.

COPIES of the list are to be sent to the clerks of the Middlesex Superior Court and Federal Court. Names for the Superior Court are drawn, as required, by the Board of Aldermen, but the Federal Clerk made his own selection from the list. Photo copies will be sent to the court of the questionnaires filled out by each person selected for jury duty.

Additional information is required this year concerning each juror, under a recently enacted statute. This list must

Says 22 Over Forty Have Died of TB Past 5 Years

In a radio address over station WCOP last Friday evening, John W. Fielding, Managing Editor of The Graphic and a board member of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association emphasized the fact that persons over forty years of age appear to be more susceptible to tuberculosis than those of younger years. At least, he stated, in the last five years, only three Newton residents under 40 years of age have died of tuberculosis, while in those same five years 22 Newton residents over 40 years of age have died of tuberculosis.

IN HIS radio talk Mr. Fielding stated:

"For all of us adults, the happiness of our children is the purpose underlying all our holiday preparations. In a larger sense, the happiness of our children is the purpose behind all our plans for the future welfare of Newton and all other communities."

"The picture of joyful children in the 1955 Christmas Seals graphically portrays the spirit of the Christmas season — but again this Christmas smiles of too many children will be dimmed by the shadow of tuberculosis. When TB strikes in a home, it often means that children are bereft for a long period of the love and care of a parent. It may mean grave financial difficulties which can permanently affect a child's future. Even worse, children may contract the disease and the dread tuberculosis meningitis may develop.

"TB CAN AND DOES kill at any age. Once it was considered a more serious threat to younger people, but in recent years statistics have shown that TB is becoming more and more prevalent among the older age groups. In the last five years, only three Newton residents under 40 years of age have died of tuberculosis, and one of these three was an infant victim of tuberculosis meningitis, while in those same five years 22 New-street, Newton Upper Falls, President of Newton Kiwanis Club and National Association of Bank Auditors and Comp-trollers, who acted as treasurer of the 1955 Heart Fund drive; and chairman of clubs and organizations, Roland F. Gammons, chairman of Board of Directors, West Newton Savings Bank, treasurer and director, Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association, formerly treasurer of Newton Taxpayers Association, and past president Men's Club of West Newton.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Behind the Fight over the Chairmanship of the Democratic State Committee is the Control of the Delegation to Be Sent to the National Convention

The new battle that has erupted for the control of the Massachusetts Democratic State Committee reflects the intensity of the behind-the-scenes struggle for the control of the delegation this State will send to the Democratic national convention in Chicago.

One faction has refused to give up its unrelenting fight to prevent former Collector of Port William H. Burke, Jr., of Hatfield from assuming the chairmanship of the State Committee because of the power that might all into his hands in selecting the delegation to the national convention.

Burke seemingly has already won the fight for the committee chairmanship on the basis of the election held last June 4 and the subsequent Supreme Court decision last month which presumably had the effect of validating that election.

But the element that has opposed Burke from the start has insisted on prolonging the clash, even though it is obvious that it may weaken the Democratic party or next November's election in this State.

TB--

ton residents over 40 years of age have died of tuberculosis.

"It is important for all of us to realize that we are not fighting the spread of the disease and preventing the development of new cases as successfully as we are fighting the number of deaths from TB. The United States Public Health Service reports that the tuberculosis death rate has shown a decline of 57% in the past five years, while the rate of newly reported cases for each year has shown a decline of only 3%. For this very reason, the case finding, health education, and rehabilitation programs of the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association are becoming increasingly important.

"CASE FINDING consists of providing chest X-rays for the people who work and live in the community. The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association has sponsored X-ray surveys in Newton industries, schools and at neighborhood locations. It is the chest X-ray that helps us discover tuberculosis in its early stages. Early discovery means a better chance for recovery and also helps prevent the unnecessary spread of tuberculosis to the patient's family, friends or other contacts.

"Health education is a primary responsibility of the TB association. Through all possible channels for information, the Association tell the public what TB is, how it can be controlled, and what measures they as individuals can take to protect themselves from catching this contagious disease.

"One of the most important aspects of the fight against tuberculosis is rehabilitation. Rehabilitation includes expert counselling to help the patient adjust to his stay in the sanatorium. It also provides books and training material to enable the patient to study for a possible change in occupation that may be necessary when he leaves the hospital. Rehabilitation services often cover scholarship; for further training in schools and colleges, and the TB association stands ready to assist the ex-patient in finding a new job. The Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association is the only local agency providing these rehabilitation services to Newton residents.

"THROUGH its affiliation with the National Tuberculosis Association, the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association supports definite research programs aimed at the elimination of tuberculosis. For example, the combined efforts of our association and its affiliates have made it possible for a group of doctors at Boston City Hospital to work on investigations which will aid in determining the safety of surgery in lung diseases and the effects of tuberculosis and other infections on the lung function.

"It is evident that the Newton Tuberculosis and Health Association along with all other local tuberculosis associations affiliated with the National Tuberculosis Association is working constantly to protect all of us from tuberculosis. Christmas presents each of us with the opportunity to support this program actively. The Christmas Seal Sale is the only source of funds available to carry on and expand the four point program of health education, case finding, rehabilitation, and medical research of the volunteer tuberculosis associations.

"TB can be defeated. Now is the time for each of us to do his share. Now is the time to buy and use Christmas Seals. Please answer your Christmas Seal letter today!"

Two-Alarm Fire Sweeps Sherman Paper Building

Sherman Paper Products Company, 156 Oak street, Newton Upper Falls sustained a $20,000 damage to its storage building early Monday morning when fire swept the structure in a two-alarm fire.

THE FIRE was believed to be of incendiary origin and the State fire marshal was called to investigate the blaze.

The fire at the rear of the factory property was discovered by Patrolman Robert F. Mahoney and flames were shooting through the roof of the structure when firefighters arrived. The watchman, John A. English, of 36 Walnut place, Newtonville, reported that he saw no signs of the blaze when he made his rounds about an hour before the fire was discovered.

Chief John E. Corcoran reported that about one-third of the 350-foot long, concrete and frame structure was destroyed, as was machinery stored there. Newton firefighters spent over four hours battling the fire with companies from Waltham, Watertown, Brookline and Needham covering in at local fire stations during the blaze.

BOX #121 was sounded at 1:17 a.m., and the second alarm was sounded by Acting Chief William H. Fitzgerald at 1:24 a.m. Engines 1, 2, 4, 6, 9 and 10, and Ladders 1 and 3 responded. The dismissal was at 5:18 a.m. but several pieces of apparatus remained at the scene until 6:40 a.m.

$11.3 Million Is Needed to Meet Appropriations

In order to meet nearly $17,000,000 in warrants and appropriations for 1955, this city had to raise nearly $11,300,000 in real and personal property taxes, the Board of Assessors have announced.

A total of $228,833,150 in real estate valuations resulted in $10,709,391 in taxes, while $12,562,350 in personal property valuation, brought in $597,918 in taxes. In addition, 22,400 polls resulted in $44,984 taxes, for a total of $11,342,200. The tax rate was $46.80.

Other receipts, including contribution by the state and Water Department collections, totalled $5,599,126. Warrants and appropriations totalled $16,941,419.

The Board of Assessors comprises Sydney B. Holden, chairman; Edward A. Fahey, clerk and Mrs. Isabelle R. Mackey.

Yes, Mother, They Need More Than Bermuda Shorts

By Roberta Goldberg, Junior at Wheaton College and 1953 Graduate of Newton High School

What are college girls wearing on campus these days? Well, I can report that the statement recently made by one mother that her daughter at Wheaton College simply needs ten pairs of Bermuda shorts and a party dress, is slightly exaggerated.

Clothes are a problem, as any girl will agree. But at Wheaton clothes are becoming less and less of a problem, or so it seems. Take, for example, what you will find a typical student wearing to classes almost any day: Bermudas, skirts, slacks, sweaters, blouses or sweat shirts.

My college has only one ruling which pertains to campus clothes: that short shorts must not be worn. Accepted footwear includes long socks, bobby socks, no socks, loafers, moccasins, sneakers and buckskins. And here again Wheaton makes only one stipulation—that shoes must be worn at all times outside the dormitory.

Casual is the key word on campus. In the evening, however, the students make no effort to resist convention: they wear their seldom-seen skirts to dinner, which is served family style, unlike breakfast and lunch, which are cafeteria style. But no sooner is dinner over than, off with the skirts and on with the shorts or pajamas.

The result of such casual dress is that when a Wheaton girl has somewhere special to go like church, date or dance, what may seem to a co-ed college girl to be a strictly non-dressy outfit, makes the Wheaton student feel rather queasy. To be noted, too, is the trend toward the informal type of dance as opposed to the ball-gown, the latter a "must" that used to be an important part of Wheaton's big college week-ends.

So much more practical are the simple dresses, the most elaborate being the cocktail party types which predominate at most dances. A male professor, new to Wheaton and its typical dress, has been known to comment that it was quite a shock to see some of his students "dressed up." He didn't dream they even owned

Do You Know Massachusetts?

Bank Debts Up 8.4%

Bank checks paid in eleven leading Massachusetts cities during October exceeded those a year ago by 8.4%. Pittsfield had a gain of 22.7%, Lowell 13.5%, Worcester 13.4%, New Bedford 10.9%, Brockton 10.6%, Lawrence - Andover - Methuen 10.0%, Holyoke 9.8%, Lynn 9.0%, Boston, 7.9%, Fall River 7.4%, and Springfield 6.6%, according to the Federal Reserve Bank System.

Record Christmas

Further evidence that Christmas trade this year will make a new high record in Massachusetts is seen in the fact that mail in the Boston postal district is running 10% ahead of that last year. In the first 18 days of December, the 94 postal branches handled 149,265 letters

Wages and Salaries Nearly 70% of Massachusetts Income

Estimates of personal incomes in 1954 by the U. S. Department of Commerce show Massachusetts' total of $9,466,000,000 as ninth largest among the states. Wages and salaries in the Commonwealth totaled 69.3% of the total, proprietors' incomes 7.4% and property income 15.7%. Of the United States income as a whole, wages and salaries represented 68.0%, proprietors' income 13.3% and property income 12.4%.

Veterans Home Loans

Up to October 25 this year, the Veterans Administration in Massachusetts had approved and guaranteed 195,876 veterans' home loans, amounting to $1,560,913,057. Termination of the home guarantee privilege in July 1957 for veterans of World War II may cause many more to exercise their rights during the coming year.

Christmas Carols

Massachusetts has made important contributions to the celebration of Christmas. The carol "Joy to the World! The Lord Is Come" came from the pen of an English poet, Isaac Watts (1748). Lowell Mason (1872) of Medfield, Massachusetts, composed the music from tunes found in Handel's Messiah. Another famous American carol is Henry W. Longfellow's poem "Christmas Bells" written for Christmas 1863. The poem reflects the horrors of the Civil War which had affected his own family, his son, a lieutenant in the army, having been seriously wounded. "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear" was written by Edmund H. Sears (1876) a Unitarian Minister of Western, Massachusetts. "O Little Town of Bethlehem" was by Phillips Brooks, well-known former rector of Trinity Church (Episcopal) in Boston and later Episcopal Bishop of Massachusetts. In Boston, the first organized Christmas eve caroling took place on the streets of Beacon Hill in 1908. — Massachusetts Department of Commerce

College Notes

Joshua Brackett of 144 Middlesex road, Chestnut Hill gave the Prologue and was in charge of costumes for the Christmas play presented at Lowell House at Harvard College.

On December 12 the students presented The Knight of the Burning Pestle, an Elizabethan play by Francis Beaumont. The play was part of the traditional Christmas Festivities which are held each year at Harvard's seven undergraduate residences before the students leave for the holidays. Other features of the evening at Lowell House were a Christmas dinner, the lighting of the Yule log by the Master of the House, and carol singing. Mr. Brackett, a senior at Harvard, is a graduate of Milton Academy, Milton, Mass.

— Political Overtones —

This conflict could result in a knock-down struggle between two opposing delegate slates in the April Presidential primary, one headed by former Governor Paul A. Dever and the other by Congressman John W. McCormack.

While personalities definitely are involved in this clash for political power, it also is basically a fight between one faction that is ardently for Stevenson and a second group which does not believe Stevenson could make any stronger run this year than he did in 1952.

Ex-Governor Dever, although he has not stated his position publicly, is all-out for Stevenson and against Burke. He has been energetically pulling strings to line up delegate support for Stevenson. He has not yet come out into the open against Burke, but his law office handled the court fight against the Hatfield man, and Burke would have been the undisputed chairman long ago except for Dever's influence.

Burke is closely allied with Congressman McCormack and shares the same office suite with City Councillor Edward J. McCormack, Jr., nephew of the Congressman. There is no doubt but that Burke and McCormack eventually will work together for the same Presidential candidate.

Some political observers believe that Dever's drive against Burke is motivated principally by the fact that he does not want McCormack to achieve any additional power that might be utilized against Stevenson.

There is little warmth between the Dever and McCormack wings of the Democratic party, and the struggle for the State Committee chairmanship has brought an underlying, simmering bitterness back to the boiling point.

Congressman McCormack did not support Stevenson at the 1952 convention because he felt the then Illinois Governor could not be elected, and it is known that his misgivings about Stevenson's vote-getting ability have never abated.

McCormack yields to no one in his loyalty to the Democratic party. His coolness with Dever probably dates back to 1940, when Dever was running for Governor and the late Franklin D. Roosevelt was seeking a third term in the White House. Dever felt that Roosevelt would be defeated and did not want to be pulled down with him. He waged an independent campaign for the Governorship, but it was he and not Roosevelt who wound up on the losing end. There is little doubt that he would have defeated Leverett Saltonstall that year, if he had employed a different political strategy.

McCormack, of course, is not just another Congressman. The authority, power and respect he commands on Washington's Capitol Hill often is not fully recognized at this distance.

He is the majority leader and the second ranking Democrat in the national House of Representatives, one step from the Speakership. He is closely allied with Speaker Sam Rayburn.

The South Boston Congressman is interested primarily in two things. 1. He wants to see a Democrat elected President of the United States. 2. He wants to see the Democrats retain control of Congress.

As a professional politician, he measures Presidential candidates from the standpoint of their potential ability to accomplish those two objectives. He obviously has serious doubts about the ability of Stevenson to realize either goal. He certainly would be out beating the drums for Adlai, if he felt the latter could win election and carry a Democratic Congress in with him.

McCormack has not indicated what Presidential candidate he prefers. As a matter of fact, he has not said he is against Stevenson. But he opposed Adlai at the '52 convention, and he has neither said nor done anything that would indicate he has changed his mind.

It is becoming apparent that the Democratic Presidential nomination will narrow down to a two-man race between Stevenson and Senator Estes Kefauver. That if McCormack is not with Stevenson, Kefauver shapes up as an obvious choice.

The strange pair of the situation is Dever and the other Democrats pumping for Stevenson have made any real effort to win over the Stevenson element. They have simply tried to ride roughshod over them. That has not worked with McCormack, Burke, and it is not likely to work with Mayor Hynes or several other Democrats who refused to go along with Stevenson four years ago. Dever, of course, antagonized the Hynes camp by supporting State Senator John E. Powers in Boston's recent mayoralty campaign, and he is not likely to draw much support from that source in any fight in which he engages.

The fight for the chairmanship of the Democratic State Committee has been waged periodically since last March, with the intervals of peace always interrupted by outbreak of new warfare within the party.

From the start the Dever faction insisted that Burke could not be elected chairman because John C. Carr of Medford had been placed in the job for a four-year term. That was the issue on which Dever's law office made the legal fight that began in the Supreme Court last April and ended with a ruling last month by the full bench of the State's highest tribunal that Carr never was elected chairman.

When the Burke supporters petitioned for a meeting in Springfield last March, Carr called a session the same day in Boston.

When a stipulation was made in the Supreme Court that an election would be held on June 4 to resolve the differences, the Carr group, instead of engaging in a fair fight that was expected, held a secret conference at the Engineers Club and devised a scheme for violating the stipulation which had been made in court.

Carr stomped out of the June 4 session after the tactics he and his backers had mapped out produced a near riot. An orderly meeting then was held and Burke was elected chairman.

But the controversy then was carried back into court by the Carr-Dever wing on the ground that Burke could not be elected chairman because Carr was serving a four-year term as chairman.

The Supreme Court knocked down that contention and ruled against Carr.

Burke, after waiting until the Christmas-New Year's holidays were out of the way, called a meeting for next Saturday, and as soon as his notices were sent out, Edward P. Gilgun of Woburn, a member of the Dever-Carr axis, issued a call for a meeting for tonight (Thursday).

That, as might be expected, has touched off new bitterness and has brought stormy protests that the Dever-Carr-Gilgun group will not allow the Democratic organization in Massachusetts to run unless it runs their way.

Behind all this political maneuvering and intrigue, the court action, the high-handed attempts at power politics and the flagrant disregard for agreements made in the highest court of the Commonwealth, looms the question of who will control the Massachusetts delegation to the Democratic national convention.

Senator John F. Kennedy is a Stevenson supporter, but it is uncertain whether he would take time out from his duties in Washington to participate in a rip-roaring battle in the April Presidential primary for the election of delegates. In the past he always has remained apart from the rough-and-tumble battles within the Democratic party back home.

Kennedy also declared in an interview in Holyoke not long ago that he felt President Eisenhower would be overwhelmingly reelected, if he is in good health and runs for a second term. He added that he did not believe Ike would run.

The struggle to determine which Democratic candidate for President will get the bulk of the votes from the contingent Massachusetts will send to the Chicago convention next summer may end in a hurry, if Mr. Eisenhower should announce that he will stand for a second term.

In that event the Stevenson and Kefauver backers might even put on an Alphonse and Gaston act, each insisting that the other could go forward to do battle with Ike.

Before the end of World War II the newspapers placed on the desk of Japanese Emperor Hirohito always were full of holes. His court chamberlains censored the papers before he saw them, clipping out all sex stories, atrocities, scandal and shocking crimes. Now he gets seven newspapers, one in English and seven in Japanese, intact. The report is that he likes them better that way.

Chapter 11 -- Getting Settled

One of the first things that I wanted to do, as soon as becoming located in this area, was to eat in a German restaurant.

With this purpose in mind, I finally found a likely looking place, and went in. I found that no one spoke English, but since I was hungry I looked over the menu and pointed to the most expensive item listed. (It cost about 22 cents.) Very shortly, a large serving of pork was brought to me. It looked like a good portion but, upon further examination, it appeared to be very next to raw! Perhaps Germans like their meat raw, but pork is one thing I do not care to eat raw. (Isn't it a shame what an education does to a person!?)

ALTHOUGH I decided not to eat the meat soon after it was served, I had no desire to be impolite to those who were doing such a good job of waiting on me, so, after considerable thought upon the matter, I devised a satisfactory way of taking care of the situation. I carefully cut up the meat into very small pieces and pushed them to the center of the plate. Then, after some time had elapsed, I managed to wad up my paper napkin and place it on top of the pile of cut-up meat. It was really a rather masterful job, if I do say so myself! The meat was hardly noticeable, no one's feelings were hurt, and I emerged with sufficient strength to get to an American hamburger.

DURING this same week, a large church conference was being held in Stuttgart. I happened to be downtown, or rather, on the main street near one of the old palaces, when I suddenly heard beautiful bell music. It was about 8:00 p.m., and so I followed the music until I came to the source—a large metal holder containing five silver-colored bells. This was just across from a very large courtyard bordered on three sides by the palace. The fourth side opened onto the street. The remains of the palace around the courtyard gave it a rather beautiful appearance. This was due mainly to the height of the walls, which were several stories high, and the statues which were along the top. There were no roofs or floors inside of this structure. Except for the walls, it had been completely destroyed. It was a holdover from the time when local monarchs ruled small parcels of land. It was in good, usable condition before the war, however, and was probably a center of Nazi operations.

I LISTENED to the bells for a while, and then went over to the courtyard and listened to a preacher speak for about twenty minutes. I could not understand much of it, but had the impression that it was just good Protestant preaching. At one point the speaker said that, in the great struggle between right and wrong which the U.S., Britain, and France are waging against the East, Germany is the front line of the struggle.

There were probably five or six thousand persons in that courtyard, and I enjoyed their reaction. On the whole, I have never seen a more quiet group. One might have thought that it was a wake, no cheering, no enthusiasm. I have been told that Stuttgart is a center for Communist activity and this may be the reason for the group being as quiet as it was. I later learned that 20,000 people came to Stuttgart for these meetings—quite a group.

ONE OF my immediate interests, when I arrived, was to go to a German movie. I decided to see "Rommel, Desert Fox." I thought that most of this would be action, so the language barrier might not be so important. Furthermore, I had heard that the reaction of the German people was most interesting, with a great deal of cheering, etc. I was disappointed in the movie, as it became a deep explanation of Rommel's part in an assassination plan against Hitler which did not work out the way Rommel had planned. There were some action shots during which the German people got fairly excited. However, my German must improve considerably before I will be interested in attending another German movie.

AS I MENTIONED before, there is a great deal of damage here in Stuttgart. The streets are clean, and the people look happy.

I have been assigned quarters here in Stuttgart. They are in a BOQ which, in regular language, means bachelor officers' quarters. The quarters are excess or temporary housing. The building is about a mile and a half from the center of town, and is on the side of a hill. The hill is not a high one, but the house I am in is about half way to the top and overlooks the city below. I would say the front window is about 300 feet above the city. It is beautiful at night. I have the whole second floor which includes four rooms, a kitchen, toilet, and maid service at a reasonable price.

The front window is like a picture window, and the view is terrific! The inside has just been redone, so it is really very nice. When Ruth arrived, I decided that it was a shame not to share my apartment with my wife, so Ruth and I have been living here since she arrived. It is a most enjoyable situation. Here we are, to all purposes and intent (as far as the neighbors are concerned) living in sin—a young lady spending the night with me quite regularly, and the fact that we are married is our own little secret.

I LOOKED at one place to live just before Ruth came. It was a home on top of a hill on the outskirts of the town. The old lady ran a boarding house, and spoke no English, only German and French. I did right well with my high school French.

Thirty Thousand Miles - - - THROUGH EUROPE

Most of the errors are very simple. For example, about one million returns are filed every year with signatures missing (This includes joint returns with only one signature and individual returns with no signature at all).

Little slips in arithmetic last year resulted in overpayments by taxpayers of $18,000,000. Taxpayers got back these overpayments eventually, after the government discovered the mistakes, but the taxpayer cannot rely on the government to save him from all his errors.

The mistakes of arithmetic favoring the taxpayer were even larger — perhaps not entirely by coincidence. All returns are checked, and when an underpayment is discovered the government not only collects the difference, but also charges interest.

Opportunities Overlooked. Apart from obvious mistakes, many taxpayers overlook opportunities to claim exemptions and deductions, and other ways to reduce their tax.

In order to help you avoid such pitfalls, this newspaper is publishing a series of articles prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants. These articles — if you save them and use them along with the official instructions that come with your tax forms — may save you money.

Your first step is to consider whether you should file at all, and then what kind of a return to file.

For income tax purposes you are not required to file a return if your gross income in 1955 was less than $600, or if you are 65 or older and had less than $1,200 gross income. But if you had income from self-employment of $400 or more, the return must be filed for social security tax purposes.

Don't forget that tax on salary of wages may have been withheld during the year by your employer, even if your income was less than $600, and the only way to get it back is to file a tax return.

Advantage of Joint Returns

A common mistake is the filing of a separate return by a wife who had a small income. If the wife files a separate return, she is not permitted to file another return jointly with her husband, nor is her husband allowed to claim an exemption for the wife on his separate return.

Most married couples will save money by filing a joint return, as this "splits" their income to put them in the same bracket as though each of them had received half the total income.

There are unusual cases, however, such as those involving capital losses, in which separate returns might result in a saving. If this is a possibility, it is best to figure both jointly and separately before deciding which way to file.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Give is also available from the Internal Revenue Service, which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

Newtonite of the Week

by LEWIS PAUL SIMONS

MISS ANNETTE SIROTTIN

This week the Graphic is proud to salute Miss Annette Sirotin of 87 Adella avenue, West Newton.

Many people do many things. Some are proud of, some they are not. Perhaps the most satisfying act one can perform is to influence, for good, the life of another. Miss Sirotin has had such an experience.

A few years ago the area in which Miss Sirotin resides was being upset by a series of vandalistic attacks. Who the culprits were was a mystery; efforts to apprehend them were at a standstill.

Annette, like many of her neighbors, was upset and angry. Although the damage to property was minor the nuisance was irritating. Everyone was anxious to see the vandals caught and of course punished.

Suddenly the incident came to a head. One evening Miss Sirotin heard suspicious noises outside of her home. She called the police and a prowler was dispatched. The intruders were caught that night.

Naturally the police informed Miss Sirotin about the apprehension. The vandals turned out to be two young boys who lived close by. They both had been in trouble before. Annette was also told that another deviation from the law on the part of the two boys would force the authorities to put them into reform school.

Perhaps a normal reaction to this situation might have been to say, good enough for them. It would be easy to look at the two youngsters as bad seed and let it go at that. Miss Sirotin was not so disposed.

She felt some effort should be made to deter these young teenagers from an almost inevitable prison record and a possible life of crime. Therefore she contacted the spiritual leaders of the church to which the boys belonged and explained the facts. She urged that they take the boys in hand and attempt to inspire them to change their ways. The churchmen of course agreed.

Miss Sirotin's interest in the two young men has been rewarded. They straightened out and are today well on the way to becoming well respected members of the community.

Annette Sirotin is a tireless worker for worthy causes. During World War II and the Korean War she worked every Sunday as a volunteer at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital.

Miss Sirotin was one of the organizers of the Newton Young Republicans' Club and was a long time member of the Woman's Republican Club of Newton.

In 1955 she was Newtonville Captain for the Heart Fund Drive. She has done volunteer work for the Red Cross and Community Chest.

Much of Annette's time of late has been devoted to the First Unitarian Church of West Newton. She is a member of the Woman's Alliance there and last year was chairman of its bi-annual fair.

Annette Sirotin for her civic mindedness well deserves to be called "Newtonite of the Week." She is one of those people anyone would welcome as their next door neighbor.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 1

How to Save on Your Income Tax

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants.)

The eve of April 15 will see a mad scramble in many households to put together the necessary facts and figures for the federal income tax returns due on that date. (April 15 falls on a Sunday this year, making April 16 the deadline.)

The last minute rush produces not only long lines at Internal Revenue Service offices, but also many careless mistakes by taxpayers.

Christmas Activities At Levi E. Warren Junior High School

On December 14, the Jr. III Girls' Glee Club of the Warren Junior High School went to the Newton - Wellesley Hospital and sang carols to the patients. Through arrangements made by the Newton Junior Red Cross the girls went to different parts of the building and sang beautifully, we are told, under the leadership of Miss Geraldine Seaver, teacher of vocal music. The carols sung included: Hark Now O Shepherds; Rise up, Shepherd and Follow; and Pat-a-Pan, as well as many of the more familiar carols.

This was the third annual Christmas visit to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital where, according to Mr. Henry, the director, check-ups show the great good that this music does for the patients. These trips are arranged through the cooperation of Mrs. E. Dana Kendall, Director of the American Junior Red Cross, and Mrs. Priscilla Daudelin, Chairman of the Newton Junior Red Cross. Warren Junior High School is also very appreciative of the cooperation of parents in helping transport the Glee Club to and from the hospital.

Charles E. Worthen, Mrs. James H. Currens, and Mrs. John B. Dynes.

CHRISTMAS ISSUE

The first issue of the school paper, "The Transmitter," came out just in time for Christmas, with many articles carrying a Christmas flavor. The issue was divided into two sections—literary and special reports. The literary section contained variety writings, articles, poems, book reports, and special Christmas stories. The special reports section stressed various departments of the school and special school activities carried on during the fall season. All material was written by pupils of the Warren Junior High School.

The Editorial Staff consisted of a Faculty Advisory Committee and a Student Advisory Committee. Mr. Carl Penney, as General Chairman, Mrs. Barbara Crosby, Mr. Jack Ripa, Mr. Ophair Caras, with Mrs. Jan Swearer in charge of the art work. The student committee consisted of Janet Doyle, Selby Hickey, John Derr, Alice Shutter, and Scott Silliman. —By Margaret Steadman, Div. II-2.

CHRISTMAS ASSEMBLY

On the final school day before the Christmas vacation from December 22 to January 3, a Christmas program prepared by the Assembly Committee under the chairmanship of Mr. Paul B. Roberts was presented to the entire student body. While Jr. I and II attended regular class, Jr. III pupils enjoyed a program of singing by the Jr. II and III Girls' Glee Club, and the Boys' Glee Club under the direction of Miss Geraldine Seaver; music by the school orchestra of some thirty-five members, directed by Mr. Vincent J. Marotto; readings and impersonations from Christmas literature by Miss Alice Fredey of Boston, and carol singing by the audience. The appearance of Miss Fredey, a comedienne and character actress, was made possible through a fund for special talent at assemblies donated by the Warren Parent-Teachers Association.

The Jr. II and III Girls' Glee Club sang Hark O shepherds; Rise Up, Shepherd and Follow; and Pat-a-Pan. The Boys' Glee Club sang, among other familiar carols, God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen; Angel Voices Heard Carol.

IRA BATES

Bates Returns to Beaconsfield

Ira Bates, perennially popular keyboard wizard, will return to The Beaconsfield on January 5 by public demand, according to an announcement by Roderick E. Bassett, General Manager of this Brookline hotel. Bates will be heard nightly except Mondays in the hotel's congenial lounge, the Hunt Room.

Ira Bates plays piano, organ and celeste, and is well known around Greater Boston for his nightclub, recording and radio work.

Since previous engagement at The Beaconsfield, he has been entertaining at other Sheraton hotels.

Many folks in Brookline, Newton and surrounding communities will welcome back to the Beaconsfield Hotel his sparkling melodies and rhythmic arrangements.

Day Junior H.S.

Parents of pupils of the Frank A. Day Junior High School will have an opportunity to hear the eighth and ninth grade Glee Clubs. Choir and orchestra perform on Thursday, January 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Day School auditorium.

Members of the Day football team will receive special awards that night in recognition of their excellent performances this year, winning all games on their schedule. Since this is the first time in nine years the school can boast of a perfect record, pride in the team's accomplishments is well justified.

Mr. William R. O'Connell, president of the Day Parent-Teachers Association, feels this program will indicate the value of teacher-pupil cooperation in the school's activities and that parents should make a special effort to be present promptly in the auditorium at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, January 12.

Bank's Annual Meeting Tears About Automation

Announce That Newton Savings Bank Assets Now Total Over $52 Million

Joseph Earl Perry, Frederick S. Bacon and Arthur K. Wells were re-elected President, Vice President and Clerk of the Corporation and Trustees of the Newton Savings Bank at the annual meeting held last Friday at the Brae Inn Country Club, West Newton. At the regular quarterly meeting of the Trustees held just before the Corporation's meeting, Winslow A. Howland was elected to the Board of vestment to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Dr. Stanley F. Teele, Dean of the Harvard Business School. Mr. Howland, who resides at 12 Graydale Circle, Auburndale, is Treasurer of the Industrial Mutual Insurance Company, 60 Batterymarch street, Boston.

Richard M. Nichols was elected Chairman and Frank Flood and William H. Vogler were elected members of the Auditing Committee and Ralph M. Binney, Theodore Buell, Richard M. Nichols, Earl P. Stevenson, Stanley Teele, Clifford H. Walker and Arthur K. Wells were elected Trustees for a three year term.

Raymond B. Thomas, formerly of Leslie road, Auburndale, and presently Manager of the Needham Office of the Bank was elected an Assistant Treasurer of the bank. Mr. Thomas, formerly Assistant Manager of the Wellesley Office of the Bank came with the bank in 1941 for nine years service with the Arlington Five Cents Savings Bank.

He is a graduate of Arlington High School, where he captained the hockey and tennis teams, and studied at MIT College where he was Vice President of the graduating class. He is Vice President of the Needham Rotary Club, Assistant Treasurer of the Needham Visiting Nurse Association and was Vice Chairman of the Industrial Division of the Red Feather drive.

President Perry announced that the January 10th dividend of the Bank will be paid at the increased rate of 3% per annum.

He also announced that the Surplus Fund protecting deposits in addition to the 100% insurance under state laws is at an all time high of $4,971,708, and that total deposits as of the year end were over $45 million, with total assets of the bank more than $52,000,000. Mr. Perry called attention to the fact that with the opening of the new Newton Highlands office the bank now operates five branches in Newton, Needham and Wellesley, more than any other savings bank in Massachusetts.

Dr. Gores To Talk on "Is There A Teacher Shortage?"

Dr. Harold B. Gores, Superintendent of Schools, will speak at the timely subject: "The Teacher Shortage: Is There One?" in the Auditorium of the Clafin School Monday evening 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Clafin School PTA, Mr. Harry V. Anderson, principal. THE THIRD of a series of panel discussions, this meeting is of particular interest by reason of the knowledge and opinions of an expert on the subject. An open invitation is extended to all teachers and educators and parents interested in the contemporary school picture to attend and join in the question and answer period.

A business meeting under the direction of Mrs. Meyer Gillvan, president of the PTA will precede the speaker presented by Mr. William Glovsky, program chairman. ## POLITICAL OVERTONES

Republicans start Series "Salute to Eisenhower" Dinners to Make Finally Official Head of Democratic State Comm.

Even while new doubts were being created by President Eisenhower himself concerning his future political plans, Republican leaders across the country were preparing a tremendous demonstration of strength on Friday night of next week.

It will formally launch the GOP drive for 1956 in the midst of the fresh uncertainty as to who the party's presidential standard-bearer will be in the fall campaign.

A series of "Salute to Eisenhower" dinners will be held in major cities throughout the nation, and it should be extremely interesting to see how the orators of the various occasions handle the matter of the President's own status as a prospective candidate, if, indeed, they touch it at all.

Top Republican figures will be distributed at key points from one end of the United States to the other. What obviously is intended to be a giant one-night political show.

Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., will be the principal speaker at a huge affair to be held at the Commonwealth Armory here in Boston, where more than 600 sons and daughters of the GOP are expected to turn out.

Rev. Merrill Tenders His Resignation

The Rev. Randolph S. Merrill, Minister of Central Congregational Church in Newtonville since September, 1931, presented his resignation from that office in the morning service last Sunday, to take effect on the first of September next, rounding out twenty-five years in this pastorate.

MR. MERRILL, a graduate of Amherst College and Union Theological Seminary in New York City, was ordained to the ministry on May 12, 1916, in his home church, the First Baptist in Paterson, New Jersey. His first pastorate was with the Baptist Church in Kennett Square, Pennsylvania, 1916-1918. He then served the First Church, Congregational, in Longmeadow, Massachusetts, for thirteen years until 1931. He has taken an active part in denominational and interchurch affairs, having been a member of the Prudential Committee of the American Board for Foreign Missions, and of various committees of the Massachusetts Congregational Christian Conference and the Massachusetts Council of Churches.

HE WAS ACTIVE in the organization of the Newton Council of Churches, and is now a trustee of the Walker Missionary Homes in Auburndale and of the Funds of Jaffna College in Ceylon. Mr. and Mrs. Merrill plan to make their home in Meredith, New Hampshire, when they leave Newtonville.

Fund Secretary Of Red Cross Has Resigned

In the resignation of Mrs. Henry T. Patch of Newton Centre as Fund Secretary, the Newton Chapter of Red Cross has lost one of its most valuable members and veritable pillars of the Chapter.

MRS. PATCH started her Red Cross career in 1931. In her long service, she worked in the Production and Staff Aide Services in addition to acting as Chairman of Fund Roll Call.

She also served on the Chapter Executive Committee Board of Directors and Chairman of the House Committee. Mrs. Patch, working almost daily at the Chapter House, gave 7000 hours of service up to 1947, and was awarded the War Time Service Bar. From 1947 through October 1955 she gave a total of 3,945 hours.

Madeline, as she is affectionately known, was awarded the 25-year pin in 1950, and the highest National Award Certificate for "exceptional Meritorious Volunteer Service," at the annual meeting, Oct. 7, 1953.

IN ADDITION to this wonderful record, Mrs. Patch has given equally fine service to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital Aid Coffee Shop, the Junior Mother's Rest, Trinity Church and other civic organizations.

No one in the Newton Chapter has contributed more to the success of the Red Cross Programs in the City of Newton and her absence at the Chapter, only for health reasons, is keenly felt by all her co-workers.

Large Parking Ticket Increase Is Noted Here

According to a report issued by the Clerk of Court Walter F. Slattery, a seventy per cent increase in the number of parking tickets was handled by the Newton District Court in 1955, compared with the two previous years.

CHIEF Philip Purcell simultaneously announced that the annual campaign to put a halt to all-night parking on city streets is now in effect.

21,699 parking tickets were handled by the court in 1955 compared with 12,748 in 1954; 12,704 in 1953; and 9,080 in 1952. About one-third of the tickets

Copper Classes To Start Winter Season Jan. 17

The popular Copper Craft classes for Newton residents sponsored by the Recreation Department have a few openings available in the Tuesday morning and Tuesday and Wednesday evening classes which will reconvene for the Winter season beginning January 17 and 18.

BOWLS, trays, bracelets, lamps, magazine racks and ash trays are only a few of the many articles made in these classes that have been held in Newton for the past twelve years under the direction of Mr. Ockerblom.

The morning class, new this year, has appealed to many Newton residents having leisure time at home.

Copper tooling on foil is another interesting branch of activity and beautiful waste baskets, letter holders, desk sets, mail boxes and other pieces are fashioned.

Application should be made at once with the Recreation Department, City Hall, as soon as possible, as there are only a few vacancies.

SESSIONS will be held at the Burr Playground Building, Waverly ave., Newton Corner on Tuesday mornings from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m. The evening classes are to be given at the same location from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. on Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

Inaugural Address Stresses Needs for Comprehensive Plan of Future Action

In his inaugural address, Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., not only amply covered the progress which has been made in city functions during the past two years, but stressed a comprehensive plan for action in the future.

Among the matters which the mayor stressed, in particular, were personnel, toll road, the increasing traffic problem, revision of the City Charter, the financial condition of the city and the rising pension costs.

The proposals for future action advanced by the mayor give to the city, perhaps for the first time, a program of progress to be undertaken upon specific recommendations. The inaugural address itself brought forth many commendable remarks for in addition to looking into the future, it covered the accomplishments of the past.

"Turning to matters which are of current or future concern," said the mayor, "the first is personnel. Already before the Board of Aldermen for consideration is a recommendation for an appropriation necessary to put into effect as of today a proposed wage and salary classification plan for city employees, except those of the School Department.

"As you already know," the mayor continued, "the plan submitted is the culmination of several months of study and preparation and will at long last provide an up-to-date, equitable — INAUGURAL — (Continued on page 2)

Not To Issue Any More Liquor Licenses Now

Stating that public convenience does not warrant additional package liquor goods stores in the city, the Newton Licensing Board has announced that it will not issue such additional licenses this year, despite the fact that a growth in population warrants an increase permitted under the General Laws.

ACCORDING to the 1955 State census, the population of the city was given as 86,585, compared with the 1950 Federal Census of 81,994, and the 1945 census of 77,257.

The law permits one liquor license for each 1,000 population, including an all liquor package and a wine and malt package license for each 5,000 population.

As of now there are 77 licenses, including 17 each of all liquor and wine and malt package licenses; nine pharmacist; 18 all liquor restaurants; 8 wine and malt restaurants; and 7 all liquor clubs.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT of the decision not to issue any more licenses at this time, was made by chairman Roy V. Collins of the Licensing Commission and is as follows:

The Treasurer's Report by Benjamin F. Louis, Treasurer, disclosed that deposits gained $2,681,000, last year, that mortgages, nearly all on local homes and business property, had gained $1,923,000, and that the Life Insurance Department now has total insurance in force on 23,460 policies of $28,139,000. Total insurance in force in Massachusetts on over 490,000 policies totals over $550 million. Year-end figures also disclosed that the Newton Highlands office opened on October 31st is servicing 356 savings accounts totalling $241,164. It is also handling weekly deposits for more than 800 Christmas Club holders.

At the dinner following the meeting, attended by top ranking officers from other Newton, Wellesley and Needham Banks, Mr. Perry introduced the speaker, Everett J. Livesey, Vice President and Secretary of the Dime Savings Bank of Brooklyn, New York, who spoke on "Automation." Mr. Livesey succeeded Mr. Perry as Chairman of the Sub-Committee on Electronics of the Committee on Savings Management and Operations of the American Bankers Association. Mr. Livesey told of some of the equip-than a surplus. He quoted from a recent report from the First National City Bank of New York which states that in ten years our population will have increased 25 million while our working force will increase by only 8 million.

He predicted that in time even small banks could use electronics by using service bureaus which could accommodate groups of users who are unable to support their own equipment installations. He urged those present to acquaint themselves with the material already available on electronics in this field in order not to be left behind.

Mr. Jones reported that he has filed a demurrer to the request by Mr. Martin for a writ of mandamus, that would order his reinstatement. A speedy hearing on his demurrer was requested by Mr. Jones.

"City of Newton, Traffic Regulations; Article V, Section 1; Vehicles found violating any of the provisions of this section, may be removed by or under the direction of an officer and at the expense of the owner, to a place where parking is allowed."

"No All-Night Parking, Article V, Section 10: It shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle, other than one acting in an emergency, to park in the street for a period of time longer than one hour between the hours of 2 a.m. and 6 a.m. of any day."

Newton Man Commander Of Motor Vehicle Unit

Newly appointed commander of the 6200th Motor Vehicle Squadron, Thirteenth Air Force on Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines, was Maj. Andrew T. Sundborg, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Sundborg, 19 Baldwin st., Newton.

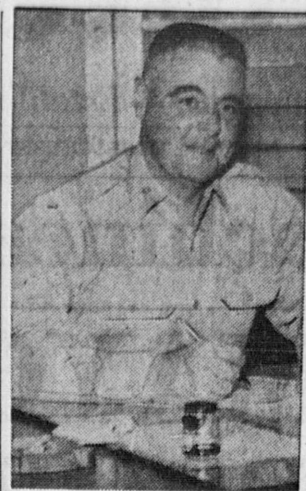

THE MAJOR, who has been on Clark since April 1954, was until recently aircraft maintenance supervisor of the 6200th Field Maintenance Squadron.

The new commander joined the service in January 1942 and in 1944-45 served his first overseas tour in the European theater of operations. In the inactive reserve status in 1946-50, he was recalled in June 1951.

Among the various maintenance positions he has held since, were as wing inspector and wing material officer for the 6520th Test Support Wing at Hanscom Field, Mass. Prior to his Philippine assignment, he was material budget officer at the Cambridge Research Center, Mass.

MAJOR SUNDBORG attended the Northeastern University in Boston, and the Engineer Officers School at Chanhute AFB, Ill. He lists his civilian occupation as mechanical designer with the General Electric Co., Lynn, Mass.

He is married to the former Jean Johnston, daughter of Mrs. Doris P. Johnston, of Brookline. With their two sons, Andrew III, 12, and Gregory, 2, she is presently with him on Clark.

city require action. I propose to appoint a Citizens' Safety Committee to work with City officials on all matters of safety. It may be that an experienced traffic engineer should be added permanently to our staff, as the problems are certainly going to become greater as time goes on."

Turning to the city charter matter, Mayor Whitmore stated:

"I am still mindful of the need for revisions to our City Charter if further organizational improvements are to be made in our government structure. Revisions should be carefully and fully studied before definite changes are proposed and I shall soon appoint a committee to be comprised of elected officials and citizens for this purpose."

Dealing with matters of financial problems, the mayor said he believed "a full discussion of the financial condition of the city, receipts and revenues and taxes is being omitted today inasmuch as a report concerning them will be presented prior to the submission of the annual budget. Suffice it to say at this time that municipal costs are still rising; the need and demands for improved and expanded services and capital facilities continue unabated; and the sources of revenue remain restricted. A review of the preliminary budgets already submitted indicates the probability of increased expenditures. All departments, including the School Department, have been requested to review their needs and eliminate all but the necessary requirements."

"A revaluation of properties has been made in an effort to better equalize assessments. New valuations for the coming year may fall somewhat below those of recent years."

"In 1955 the city received approximately $312,000 from the School Building Assistance Commission, about two-thirds of which represented an accumulation for several past years, request for which have not been processed or submitted. In 1956 the amount to be received from this source will drop to about $100,000."

"This year should afford a lull in new school building activities, before the necessary construction of expanded high school facilities."

Turning to rising pension costs, Mayor Whitmore said: "Pension costs are truly staggering. In 1955 this expense to the city was about $500,000 and it will increase 20 percent this year. The broad concern relative to pensions is shared by the state and all municipalities. Some constructive action is required."

Marriages Show Increase Over Those for 1954

Including marriages of residents which took place outside this city, marriages recorded here totaled 939 last year as against a total of 927 in 1954, according to City Clerk Monte G. Bashas.

There were 887 marriage intentions filed here in 1955, compared to 895 filed in 1954.

J. H. Remley To Speak At Horace Mann PTA

"Our prime objective in music is enjoyment," says James H. Remley, Supervisor of Music in the Newton Public Schools, but he goes on to explain how music helps bring harmony, in more than a technical sense, to the individual, to the family and to society; how it is a force for good against the tensions and trials which beset all three, a power which is at our fingertips if we but know how to use it.

Parents ask, "How can we help our children develop musically?" Mr. Remley will answer this question when he speaks to members and friends of the Horace Mann P.T.A., Newtonville, at the meeting which will take place in the school auditorium at 7:45 p.m. next Tuesday evening, January 17.

Can "non-musical" adults do anything to help children with music? When should training begin? How should a child choose an instrument? And what about practicing? The list of possible questions is endless. Some will be answered by an actual demonstration of the Seashore Test for musical ability which is given to all fourth-grade children in the Newton Public Schools, others by the explanation of modern teaching methods.

Membership in P.T.A. is not limited to parents and teachers. This meeting, especially, will interest everyone who has any contact with children and will be of particular value to parents of pre-schoolers.

The next meeting of the Newton Art Association will be Thursday, January 19 at the Newtonville Public Library, when a well known Boston artist will give a painting demonstration. At the last meeting, Steven Trefonides, Boston art teacher and painter, was the guest, commenting on several paintings produced by members of the Art Association.

Many individual exhibits by members of the Art Association are appearing throughout the city. Paintings by Martha Pate O'Brien are being shown at the Newton Centre Public Library, while those of Sherwood Blodgett, in watercolor, may be seen at Oak Hill Branch of the Public Library. At the Newton-Waltham Bank at Newton Centre, are the flower paintings in oil and pastel by Marion Miller. Ruth Yount is exhibiting at the Newton Centre Branch of the Newton Savings Bank, while Esther Connolly's oils appear at the Newton National Bank Branch, also in Newton Centre.

Bank exhibitions at Newtonville have the works of Priscilla Ordway showing at the Newton Co-operative Bank, while at the Newton National Bank on Walnut Street are the paintings of Jo Barker White in oils and water colors.

Atoms For Peace To Be Discussed At Meeting

DR. WALTER WHITMAN

Atoms for Peace will be the subject discussed by Dr. Walter Whitman at the midwinter meeting of the Newton Council of Churches, Thursday evening, January 19, at the Eliot Church, Newton. Dr. Whitman is an outstanding authority in the field, having been Secretary General of the United Nations Conference last summer at Geneva, where scientists from all over the world gathered to discuss peaceful uses of atomic energy. In speaking of this conference later Dr. Whitman said:

"WE KNOW that Atomic power can annihilate us. But we are learning that it can free us from many of the restrictions which have made the good life impracticable for much of the world. This conference has opened our eyes to the prospects of benefit to man. It has demonstrated that the nations are eager to cooperate in realizing these benefits and it has shown that their cooperation—through the United Nations—holds bright promise for the future."

HEAD OF the Department of Chemical Engineering at M.I.T., Dr. Whitman has spent much time during the past fifteen years in Washington, D.C., not as a career man in public service, but as a professional man who feels it is his duty to undertake any important task in the public interest for which his abilities qualify him.

A dinner at 6:30 will be followed by a brief business meeting, and at 7:45 Dr. Whitman's address will be open to the public.

Jaycees Now In Process Of Distributing Safety Calendars

President Edward V. Gartland, Jr., of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce announced this week that the Newton Jaycees are now in the process of distributing the 1956 Safety Calendar.

With the cooperation of Newton Police Chief Philip Purcell and Newton Safety Officer Charles Feeley the Jaycees will distribute the huge educational safety-poster calendars in business establishments, public places and school classrooms in the city. When these safety calendars are posted school children and adults alike will be exposed to "The First Lesson" in safety as the safety picture is called.

The safety calendars this year are truly a 100 per cent Newton project as the school building used in the picture is a likeness of the Pierce School in West Newton and the mother and two children shown are Mrs. David Burkhardt of Prince street, West Newton, her son Jeff, age 5 and Barbara Bugbee, 12, of Exeter street, West Newton. The calendar was manufactured by one of Newton's "Blue Chip Industries" and has been sponsored in Newton by the Newton National Bank, The Toy Chest, Ruane Flowers Inc. and Haiman's Shoe Store. Chief Philip Purcell of the Newton Police Dept. stated that "the entire program was the brain-child of Newton Safety Officer Charles Feeley. It was created to teach safety where it will do the most good—in the early school classes where the minds of children are more receptive and impressionable." Officer Feeley has made a long study of safety and methods of teaching it and has spoken before P.T.A., church and school groups not only in Newton but in other cities as well.

The creators of the safety calendar believe that much is lost when the calendar is hung and forgotten. Therefore, a new feature, never before offered, has been made a vital part of the safety program. A successful attempt has been made to impress upon the children and their parents a fundamental lesson in traffic safety. That lesson being that the parents teach the child the first rules of safety and then are assisted by the police officers.

It has been reported by the manufacturer of the calendars that this idea of Officer Feeley has been accepted by many and that this Newton Safety Calendar will be distributed to schools across the nation next year.

With the limited number of calendars available for distribution in Newton, President Edward Gartland of the Jaycees has suggested that those wishing to obtain one should call the Chairman of Distribution, Carleton P. Merrill at DE-catur 2-2432. Other Junior Chamber of Commerce members participating in the distribution are: Richard Eagan, Robert Shaw, Robert Vaughan, James Fitzpatrick, Albert Horton, Jack Baldwin, Eric Wahlman, Nathan Clark and John Stevens.

Two Newton Men Have Prominent Parts In "Celebrities Night"

The seventh annual star-studded "Celebrities Night" show for the benefit of Jewish Memorial Hospital's research and medical care program will be staged in the Boston Garden on Sunday evening, April 30, David Stern, Newton, president of Jewish Memorial Hospital, announced today.

THIS STAGE extravaganza is sponsored by the Hospital Group, Junior, Young Women's, Brookline, Malden, Chelsea, West End, and North Shore auxiliaries, and Men's Associates of the hospital.

Nathan N. Challant, Swampscott, general chairman of "Celebrities Night" last year in presenting the star-packed show, will again serve in that position. Louis E. Hellmann, Newton, is honorary chairman. In charge of the big production will be Robert M. Sternburg who has each year handled all the production details of the show.

"Celebrities Night" was initially staged in April 1950 with big names of the entertainment world that attracted such a tremendous crowd in Boston Garden to witness the magnificent show that the committee was spurred to make the event an annual fixture.

PROCEEDS of the mammoth fund-raising event which attracts nearly 15,000 persons will aid the hospital's extensive research and medical care program which has been enlarged with the completion of the new $700,000 wing. This is the only major fund raising event sponsored for hospital funds during the year.

Committees are being appointed and will be announced shortly to launch the work for the 7th "Celebrities Night", which will feature some top movie, TV, radio and stage personalities.

A second son, third child, Edward Pease Farrington, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas F. Farrington of Waban, December 29. Mr. and Mrs. Nicolas Pease of Surrey, England, are the grandparents.

His Greatness Grows

January 17 is the 250th anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin, whose greatness as American patriot, diplomat, philosopher, grows with the years.

Franklin's was the only name signed to all four basic documents of our beginnings: The Declaration of Independence, the Treaty of Alliance with France, the Treaty of Peace with England, and the Constitution.

Many of the principles he promulgated have a particular significance for us today. He stood for local as against federal action; he urged that federal taxes be kept down through thrift and economy. With all his full activities in science and industry he still found time, when asked, to engage in public service for the good of his country.

He was truly a great American.

March of Dimes Opens

Polio isn't licked yet. This is a fact that is being brought to public attention in this county and throughout the country as volunteer workers open the 1956 March of Dimes. The drive for funds to carry on the polio fight will continue here throughout the month.

Thousands of polio patients still need aid, according to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. And many of these depend on iron lungs and other mechanical devices for the very breath of life.

"To stop aid now," a statement from March of Dimes headquarters said, "would be like pulling the electric plug from an iron lung."

The treatment of a single polio patient often costs thousands of dollars and extends over many years. "It is not enough to save a life," a March of Dimes spokesman said. "The job isn't finished until we have done everything possible to make that life worth living again."

The March of Dimes program includes maintenance of 14 respirator centers where medical specialists study methods of restoring the ability to breathe, and demonstrate new techniques so that this knowledge can be applied in hospitals all over the country.

More than 50 percent of this year's March of Dimes need is for patient aid. March of Dimes funds will be spent also in research programs which may save future generations from the crippling disease. The Salk vaccine was developed through a March of Dimes grant. Volunteer workers are needed here to push the drive which will end Jan. 31. The minimum need for this year's program is $47,600,000.

Political Overtones

Governor Herter will journey to Kansas City to be the orator at a similar event there. Vice President Richard M. Nixon will address a gathering in Chicago. Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey will speak in New York. UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., will be in Pittsburgh. Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks in Milwaukee. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson in Houston. Texas, Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell in Flint, Mich., Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams in Hartford, Ct.

Ironically, the "Salute to Eisenhower" banquets will come at a very time, when the conjecture concerning Mr. Eisenhower's second-term plans has taken a new turn and there is a fresh wave of political thinking that the man being honored on Friday night of next week, will not lead the GOP into the 1956 election wars.

If President Eisenhower has reached even a tentative decision whether to run for another term, without waiting for his doctors to tell him if he is able to do so, he presumably has decided to retire from office.

That is the conclusion the political experts draw after studying the answers made by the President to the questions addressed at him during his first press conference since he suffered his heart attack early last fall.

The same opinion was reached by 10 of the 12 newspaper reporters in attendance at the press conference who were in a position to observe Mr. Eisenhower's manner and attitude as he discussed the queries concerning his political plans.

It is also extremely doubtful that those Republican leaders, who have been proceeding on the assumption that Ike would stand for reelection, if his physicians gave him the green light, will find much to support their view in the text of the President's answers to the newsmen.

Certainly, President Eisenhower's comment on the "critical" and "startling" effect a change in government during a President's four-year term in office, emphasizes the seriousness of the thought he is giving to the question which he eventually must answer.

One thing which stands all through the text of his replies is Mr. Eisenhower's strong sense of duty. It may be that the President's advisers will convince him that he has a duty to seek another term. But it is also possible that he himself may decide that his duty lies in another direction.

Fight over State Dem. Chairman Ends

Few partisan election battles ever have been waged with more bitterness than the fight for the control of the Massachusetts Democratic State Committee which alternately simmered and exploded over a span of 10 months.

Now it appears that peace is to be restored at least momentarily to the strife-torn ranks of the committee and that William H. Burke, Jr., of Hatfield will be recognized as the official head of the organization.

The Democrats have an astonishing ability for being able to put aside their own feuds and feelings and stage a great show of unity and harmony as they go forward to engage a political enemy.

That's one of the strange differences between the two major political parties in this State and to some degree throughout the nation.

The Democrats spend a great deal of their time clubbing each other over the head and beating each other into semi-consciousness in their intra-party warfare, but they almost always manage a truce and get together at election time in such a manner that you might wonder if a harsh word really had ever been spoken.

But where the Democrats can forget a raging row almost overnight, a dispute within the GOP can be almost disastrous to the Republican chances.

A good many Republicans still harbor the bitterness that was born almost eight years ago at the 1948 GOP national convention in Philadelphia, where a fight occurred that made Robert F. Bradford an easy victim when he stood for reelection later that year.

Some of the Massachusetts supporters of the late Robert A. Taft will knife Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., as long as he runs for public office. The Taft backers will never forgive Thomas E. Dewey for what he did to their man at the 1952 convention in Chicago.

That doesn't mean the Republicans fight any more vehemently among themselves than do the Democrats. The fact is they probably don't quarrel as often or as bitterly, but the conflicts they have usually do more harm than do those within the Democratic councils.

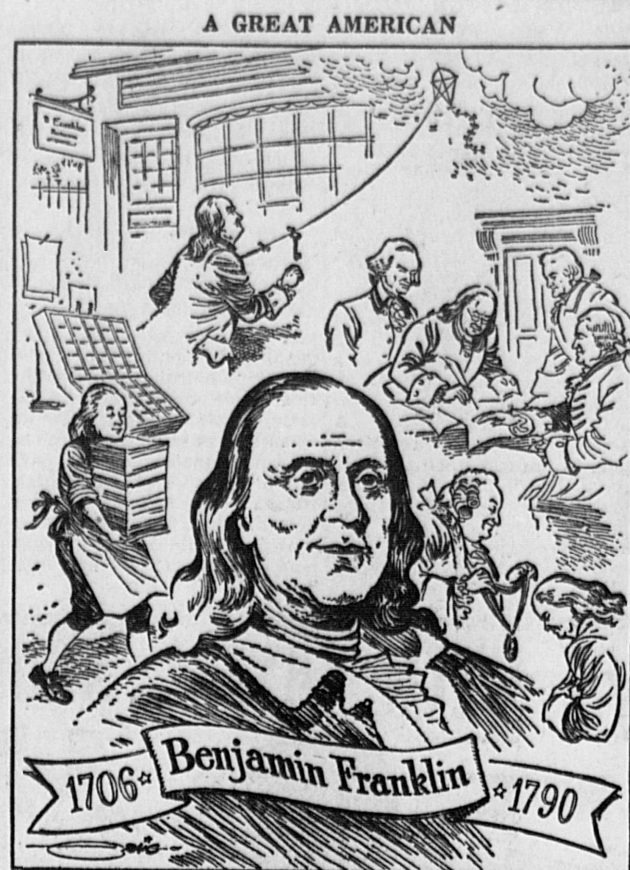

If the GOP had been the setting for the same fight that occurred for the Democratic State Committee chairmanship, there would be little chance, if any, of Republican success in Massachusetts next fall. But it probably will not impair the Democratic prospects to any substantial degree.

The Democrats may take time out for a new struggle among themselves during the Presidential primary in April and the subsequent organization of the Democratic State Committee in June. Another clash may explode at the Democratic national convention in August. If past history repeats itself, however, they'll pull the pieces together for the election campaign next autumn.

The fight for the chairmanship of the Democratic organization was carried almost to the point of absurdity. If it were not called off, it could well have prevented this State from sending any delegation to the Democratic national convention. As a matter of fact, that is probably the only reason it was called off.

At a meeting in the Sheraton Plaza Hotel last Thursday night, former Collector of Port Burke was a choice of a clear majority of the State Committee members for the chairmanship just as he was at a meeting held last June.

Thirty-seven committee members comprising an exact majority of the organization, assembled and elected Burke. Newspaper reporters were admitted to that session, were allowed to observe and cover the proceedings and determine for themselves who was there.

A TRIBUTE

The Editor,
Newton Graphic:

This past week the Newton School System lost, through death, one of its finest members—Miss Ethel R. Gardner.

Miss Gardner had taught for 46 years, of which 39 had been spent at the Williams School in Auburndale. Miss Gardner was known and loved by generations of Auburndale youngsters as either a first grade or second grade teacher. Her presence in the community will be sadly missed.

Miss Gardner brought to the children of Auburndale an unparalleled knowledge of, and sensitivity to, nature. As one mother has said, "She made the children truly aware of the world around them." To her first or second graders, Miss Gardner would give new meaning to the world of nature, and her methods of teaching, and observation on flowers, trees, birds, and, indeed, on the world around us was unique. Children learned to know and make friends with nature through her.

At Christmas time each year, her Madonna books were something to remember, and in the Spring her garden patch was a first-hand way of knowing how things grow. The trees on the playground around the Williams School are a memorial to Miss Gardner, who fought to save them when the new school was built. She was remembered with affection and admiration by the many children who came under her gentle guidance, and although she could be "a stickler for addition," she formed friendships in her classroom that lasted a lifetime.

It can be said, in the best sense of the words, that Miss Gardner gave her life to the children of Auburndale.

Robert R. Walker.

GARBAGE ANEV

The Editor,
Newton Graphic:

I must say the garbage collection men are not much better than the ones we had under Jablonski. I've called up four or five times but nothing seems to be done about it.

They are supposed to pick up the garbage twice a week, but haven't, since I don't know when. It's fortunate it isn't polio season. They go right through my hedges, over my fence to the next yard to collect. Then to top it off, every garbage pail cover is left open throughout the neighborhood, with sometimes the pail half out.

It would seem as though something could be done about it. I've spoken to the men and left a message for the collector, but to no avail. I am appealing

Downstairs in the same hotel Burke's opponents pretended to hold a meeting behind closed doors, with reporters barred, although there were not enough committee members left over to hold a legal session.

It was obviously just a bit of political play-acting. Burke's adversaries claimed in public statements that they had mustered 39 members, two more than Burke had, but admitted in private conversations that only 21 persons showed for their meeting.

That could have set the stage for a prolonged court fight, but top party brass suddenly realized that if it did, there would not be any delegation from Massachusetts to the Democratic national convention, and the row was hastily called off.

In the background of the political tug-of-war were the figures of Congressional Majority Leader John W. McCormack and ex-Governor Paul A. Dever. McCormack was supporting Burke. Dever was against him.

Dever wanted to control the Bay State delegation and deliver it to Adlai Stevenson. McCormack is cool to Stevenson but has not yet declared himself for anyone and is not prepared to say whom he will support.

Burke and the McCormack forces won the fight for the control of the State to you and also the Mayor as to what can be done. We pay enough taxes and try to keep our property looking nice without someone going through hedges and fences.

Mrs. Emil Micka,

WATER DEPT. SALARIES

The Editor,
Newton Graphic:

May I take this opportunity to express my great dissatisfaction with the reclassification plan, especially in the amounts allotted to the Water Meter Readers—in the table of minimum and maximum rates as established.

It is an undeniable fact that the Water Department is a self-paying department, and salary payments do not affect the general tax rate, one iota. All revenue is derived from water rates levied on our householders or industrial establishments. Therefore, our salaries are paid to us out of the revenue derived from the use of water as a source of income. This cannot be said of any other department, as they aren't on a self-paying basis.

I consider them unfair and unjust on account of the above stated means of income—work performed, efforts involved, job performance, ability and all related events pertaining to our job, and established under competitive Civil Service examinations for Water Meter Readers.

I further consider them unjust in relation to other group increases within the department. The mere fact that throughout my 26 years as a meter reader—with faithful service to the people and my city—entitles me to some consideration for length of service, as senior water meter reader.

The senior clerk, senior clerk and typist, senior clerk and stenographer, senior assistants (library), senior civil engineering draftsman, Grade 3, and Senior engineering aid Grade 2; all were recognized but the senior water meter reader, from a self-paying department. Why?

I still consider them unjust because for years—ever since I became a meter reader—we were always next to the foremen of the department in salary compensation. Now under this reclassification—others in different positions are up to us—and still others have gone ahead. Why?

For several years the hourly paid employees have gained on us in wages, while our's remained static. Under the plan as proposed with a 104 dollar increase and another 9 cents per hour later on—within our 5-year maximum—they will exceed Committee. But they're both professional politicians, and if it develops that Stevenson is going to win the Democratic Presidential nomination on the first ballot at the national convention in Chicago, they'll fall into line between him just as if they had been marching in his ranks for the past three years. In such an event, of course, the State Committee battle would have been simply a wasteful expenditure of energy. That could happen.

Peace seems strange and almost out-of-place in the turbulent Democratic State Committee. You may be certain that it is only a temporary condition.

Burke, incidentally, is one of the shrewdest politicians and best organizers in Massachusetts. He directed the campaigns in this State for the late Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1940 and 1944. For the past several years the Democratic State Committee has been a political nonentity that did nothing and amounted to nothing.

Incredible as it may seem, the State Committee did not even hold a meeting during the last six months of 1954 and took no part whatever in the election campaign that year. It simply was not called together by the then chairman, John C. Carr. Under Burke it probably will become a far more active organization than it has been in recent years.

(certain employees) our total salary.

When I saw the handwriting on the wall, I sent a communication to my good friend, the former Mayor Theodore R. Lockwood—explaining this injustice. He assured me in a reply that something would be done about it, but he was then stalled at so doing.

Disregardful of overtime pay which greatly increases the total wages of hourly employees—we have also lost on our pension payments as well—another unjustifiable reason, because pensions are based on maximum or total wages. So we have lost twice in this latest transaction.

To get and retain competent and qualified meter readers, our present wages have to be made more attractive than the proposed minimum and maximum. We should keep the gains we have been awarded these past years—in proportion to our work and responsibility. We should keep pace with every other employee—within our department. We should not lose ground now, with the rapid growth of the Garden City, more territory to be covered, new and many streets added. More water meters installed have thus created a greater work-load, with added responsibility and not less.

It is no exaggeration when I state, that I anticipate further increases will be given non-salaried or hourly employees, within the 5-year period, between our minimum and maximum. We cannot foretell that like increases will be added to our maximum to balance our overall wages proportionally. We have no assurance that the true monetary value of our position as meter readers, will be retained in the future, in like regards to the present. We would like to know the true value of our job potential, its value to the taxpayers, for ability and reward for work or job performance. This to us can only be expressed in wages received and true minimum and maximum rate applications. We cannot believe that the amounts proposed are in true relationship or value, comparable with our position—under competitive civil service classification.

To me personally, it has been a pleasure, and a great privilege to serve the good people of the city of Newton, these great many years. I hope to continue with the help of Divine Providence, for a good many more. As a meter reader, I know that a minimum or maximum cannot be established to cover the good-will and friendships, that I have made throughout the years. As a meter reader, I also believe everyone should receive the wages to which they are entitled. I believe emphatically that there should be no discrimination—either in the lowest or highest paying jobs. Everyone should be treated equal, when raises in wages are given out, with established minimums. There doesn't seem to be any maximum, where hourly paid employees are concerned. This to me seems unjust, when I see the gap getting smaller and smaller, year after year. Why?

It is not that I begrudge anyone their just wages—but every job has the same value attached—we are all hit by high taxes and the high cost of living.

reader, I also believe everyone should receive the wages to which they are entitled. I believe emphatically that there should be no discrimination—either in the lowest or highest paying jobs. Everyone should be treated equal, when raises in wages are given out, with established minimums. There doesn't seem to be any maximum, where hourly paid employees are concerned. This to me seems unjust, when I see the gap getting smaller and smaller, year after year. Why?

Residents Invited to Inspect Newest In Banking Facilities

The Roslindale Co-operative Bank will hold an open house at its new bank building on Saturday and the officers and directors extend a cordial invitation to local residents to visit and inspect Greater Boston's most modern bank.

The "open house" hours will be from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m. and everyone is invited to drop in and see the spacious new quarters and to meet the officers and staff of this 58 year-old Co-operative bank.

Located in the heart of Roslindale, the new bank now offers maximum convenience, and ultimately ample parking facilities will be available for its customers. The banking quarters have been greatly expanded in the new structure, occupying many times the area of their previous location.

Architecturally, the new colonial type building is a welcome addition to the center of the business district, modern in all its aspects, providing a pleasant atmosphere and efficient facilities for service to its many savings and home mortgage customers.

The new building is strictly one of colonial design including the interior as well as the exterior. Rubber tiled floors, with some broadloom coverage, recessed and fluorescent lighting, eye-ease colors, maximum daylight, acoustic plaster ceilings and walnut counters and a number of other modern features make it one of the most attractive banks in Greater Boston.

Two well-planned conference rooms provide complete privacy for the discussion and transaction of personal business. The furniture and other furnishings in all rooms, including a spacious public lounge area in the customers' lobby add to the comfort of everyone.

The new bank provides not only added comfort and convenience to the bank's depositors, but also provides a larger working area for the personnel enabling them to better serve their customers' needs. New fire-proof ledger files and vaults provide safety for all records.

This 58 year-old Co-operative bank is a well-known landmark in Roslindale. It has made continual strides to encourage thrift and home ownership to its residents and business people of Roslindale and West Roxbury and to hundreds of some owners in the surrounding communities of Dedham, Westwood, Needham, Islington, Dover, Milton and Newton club and the three witnesses will be Mrs. Percival Waters, Mrs. John F. Boyle and Mrs. Donald C. Moody. The twelve jurors will be Mrs. Vernon E. Carter, Mrs. C. David Gordon, Mrs. C. Roy Rook, Mrs. Sidney R. Williamson, Mrs. Joseph F. Spillane, Mrs. Robert H. Perkins, Miss Theresa Cram, Mrs. Alfred O. Weaver, Mrs. Wilson C. Dort, Mrs. Theodore A. Potter and Mrs. Nelse Hervan.

The dessert and coffee hour under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert H. Perkins and Mrs. Frederick E. Whelpley will be at 1 p.m. and the pourers will be Mrs. George H. Hayden, Mrs. Frederick K. Rousseau and Mrs. Edwin M. Wolley. The business meeting will start at 2 p.m. This is a Guest Day.

The Art Corner under the chairmanship of Mrs. Nelse Hervan will display Sebastian Figurines. Mrs. Merrill B. Smith will show her collection of these famous miniatures designed and produced in Marblehead by Prescott W. Baston who started his collection as a hobby and

The Lasell Reporter

Items of Current Interest From Lasell Junior College

This is the first of what it is hoped can become a regular weekly series of news letters from Lasell Junior College. It is the intention that these reports should include not only news of events of general interest taking place on the Lasell campus, but should also cover the many activities of the Lasell family—faculty, students, and alumnae—in the community at large, especially where these involve, as they generally do, some of the many Newton girls currently enrolled at the college.

It is a pleasure, then, to be able to initiate this column with a very cordial invitation to the public to attend an Open House at Lasell's new, Wess Science Building, to be held on Wednesday evening, January 18, from 7 to 9. At cornerstone laying ceremonies in October a year ago, both Mayor Howard Whitmore and Dr. Harold Gores, Newton Superintendent of Schools, brought expressions of hope for the success of this Lasell venture. These hopes have been richly fulfilled, and the quarter-million-dollar structure, which houses well-equipped modern laboratories in anatomy, physiology, zoology, qualitative and quantitative analysis, chemistry, medical technology, and microbiology as well as general classrooms, entered on its first full year of service this fall.

Invitation to the Open House comes on the part of the College Science Club, Nancy Ivers of Winchester, president. A number of interesting exhibits have been prepared for the occasion by the Club, in conjunction with the members of the science faculty under the direction of Dr. Inez W. Williams, chairman of the department. The Wess Science Building is located just off Woodland road, directly behind the Woodland Hall dormitory.

Members of the Orphean Club, Lasell's 20-voice chorus, are in the midst of excited preparation for their joint sing with the M.I.T. chorus, scheduled for Friday evening, January 13. The Lasell group goes to M.I.T. at the invitation of Professor Klaus Liepmann, director of the Tech group, and the whole concert, as he put it, "is just for fun." It will be followed by a dance.

No regular program is to be presented, but it is expected that the Orphean will contribute at least three of the numbers on which they have been working most recently: Rasbach's "Mountains," Bell's arrangement of the traditional sea chantey "Can't You Dance the Polka?" and the "Scene and Prayer" from Mascagni's opera "Cavalleria Rusticana." Feature of the evening, however, will combine the talents of both choruses in the impressive Easter cantata of Johann Sebastian Bach, "Christ lag in Todesbanden." Not least of the anticipation of the Lasell singers comes from the fact that this will be their first appearance in M.I.T.'s spectacular Kresge Auditorium, which is reputed to have the most extraordinary acoustics of any hall in the East.

Director of the Orphean Club this year, by the way, is a newcomer to the Lasell faculty, but no stranger to Newton music lovers. He is Mr. James H. Remley, Supervisor of Music in the Newton Public Schools. Mr. Remley succeeds the late George Sawyer Dunham, grand old man of New England choral music and for 40 years director of Lasell's musical life and a beloved campus figure. To fill such a vacancy must have come as something of a challenge, and it is a pleasure to report that already Mr. Remley has completely won the affections of his chorus here as well as the respect and admiration of the rest of the faculty and student body. Mr. Remley, who holds the B. S. in Public School Music from Indiana (Pa.) State Teachers College and the M. A. from New York University, has many other musical irons in the fire, including the directing of all-state choruses in Vermont, New Hampshire, and Rhode Island, as well as the local Newton Community Chorus. He is also a member of the faculty of the New England Conservatory of Music.

President Raymond C. Wass has recently returned from a trip to New York City, where he attended a meeting sponsored by the American Association of Junior Colleges and the Council for Financial Aid to Education. Mr. Wass, as president of the New England Junior College Council, spoke of the work of the junior colleges in New England and of the pressing financial needs of many of the private institutions in this region. The Council for Financial Aid to Education acts as a screening agency between institutions of higher learning and the Ford and similar large philanthropic foundations in this country. Its director is Wilson Compton, brother of the late president of M.I.T.

and former president of Washington University.

President Wass has also just completed a series of two talks before the 450 freshmen involved in the College Orientation program, on the long 105-year story of Lasell, under the general title of "Your College." Mr. Wass used as his text, the official College history, "Lasell's First Century," by Ruth Hopkins Spooner '23, which appeared in 1951 on the occasion of the College's one hundredth anniversary.

Miss Jane Houston, counselor and human relations specialist from the Berkeley School in New York, addressed the student body in an all college assembly on January 10. Miss Houston surveyed the whole field of employment for young women today, and then outlined some of the more successful techniques for a planned approach to getting the job wanted.

This was the introductory talk in what will be a series running throughout the remainder of the college year, in which representatives from the various businesses and professions making most use of women employees — such as publishing, advertising, personnel, teaching, government, retailing, home economics, secretarial, and the like — will each outline the opportunities available in that special field. The whole program of vocational guidance is under the supervision of Miss Inez Atwater, one of Lasell's student counselors and College Placement Director, and has as its goal the placing of every Lasell graduate not merely in a good job — which with present employment levels is no longer the problem — but in a job in which her Lasell training and her personal skills and aptitudes can be fully realized.

Preparations are going ahead full steam for the Snow Ball, annual mid-winter dance sponsored by the College Government Association, to be held this year on Saturday evening, January 14, from 8 to 12. Natalie Flather of Providence, vice-president of the Association, is general chairman of the dance committee. Music will be supplied by Larry Stevens and his orchestra.

Congregation Beth-el of Newton

Orthodox Sabbath services are held regularly at the home of Mr. William Schneider, 20 Hilltop street, Newton, at 9:15 a.m. His home is in the Cabot street area and all are welcome to attend services. The Building Committee hopes to announce the purchase of a permanent home shortly. For information please call Mr. Samuel Andler, President, at LA 5ell 7-2468.

Cub Scout Pack 72 Has New Enrollment of 73 Members

Cub Scout Pack 72, Norumbega Council, operating under the aegis of the Oak Hill School PTA is eagerly looking forward to the second half of its year.

The Pack registered a new high enrollment of 73 Cub Scouts. At the October Pack Meeting, a mass Bobcat ceremony, conducted by Cubmaster, Bernard A. Blank, signalled the completion of qualifying requirements for 35 new boys. Following this ceremony, the Pack presented a panel, consisting of Pack Chairman Bertram Promboin, Supervisor of Advanced Activities Alfred Rosen, Den Mother Ann Hahn, and a Den Mother of prior years, Evelyn Horowitz. The panel discussed various aspects of Cub Scouting including duties and responsibilities of parents, den mothers and pack executives. The panel then discussed our new program for older Cub Scouts.

An entirely new and experimental program was instituted for a group of 10-year-old boys, many of whom may have been lost from scouting. The boys have studied Morse Code signaling, with buzzer and light and have become proficient knot-tiers. These activities have been taught by the fathers of this group of boys at evening den meetings. The Den 10 group is looking forward to the study of basic electricity during the month of January, and photography during February.

The November Pack Meeting was well attended and saw the advancement in rank of numerous Cub Scouts. The Pledge to the Flag was led by Ronald Promboin as a step towards his Lion award Den 7, consisting entirely of first year Cubs, put on a delightful skit depicting the theme of the month, "America the Beautiful." Following this skit, Den 1 stirred the enthusiasm with a den cheer composed by the boys. Den 10 then put on a demonstration of signalling and code reading.

The December Pack Meeting came close on the heels of the November meeting because of the Holiday season. After the opening ceremonies, in which the Salute was led by Donald Krim, Harold Weinstein and Alan Weiner received a Wolf award, Larry Reisman received a Bear award, and Donald Krim received a Lion badge. Announcement was made of the successful completion of a Community Service Project, during which many toys and games were collected by the Cub Scouts and presented to the children at the Fernald School for Retarded Children. Also, adult books and magazines were brought to the Veterans Hospital. Both presentations were very gratefully received.

This visit to the old lady's was most interesting. As I stepped in the door, there in the living room was almost a life-sized picture of a Nazi Luftwaffe officer. There were also two men about 30 who certainly were not pleased with my being there. This place still seemed like a Nazi hangout, so I wasn't interested in living with the old lady and her friends. The picture was of her son who had been killed in France.

ON MY arrival in Stuttgart, I was surprised to find that an extensive bus schedule is maintained which is free to Army personnel. The buses are regular Army buses, but the drivers are all German, and few know any English at all. My first day at the school I got on the wrong bus and went out to the Seventh Army Headquarters. This took an extra hour, but was certainly worth it. The boys out at this spot really looked like soldiers. Every soldier I saw had a crease in his pants sharp as a razor, and his shoe sparkled. They were the snappiest soldiers I have ever seen. It gave me a good feeling to know that they were only five miles west of Stuttgart. At the entrance was a tank on each side of the flag pole, with the Stars and Stripes on top. Mighty nice to be a part-owner of an outfit like that!

Reactions among the people here seems varied. I have been in contact with two kinds of feelings. I went into one shop and although I was the second one in the shop when I arrived, it was 20 minutes and 10 customers later when I left without being waited upon.

NOT LONG after this first experience, I came across something just the opposite. I entered a light bicycle shop looking for a light bulb that was strong enough to work by 100 watts or so. The place was full of people so I stood back to wait my turn, when one of the little girls (a daughter, perhaps, of the owner) came over to help me. She spoke a little English, and it was not long before I was all set with the best they could do for me, a 75 watt bulb. As I turned to leave the shop, the proprietor dropped what he was doing, and rushed over to open the door for me and was all smiles, giving me all the best wishes of the day. This does a lot for one's morale, and I am sure it is the older people who are not the ardent Nazis that realize how different things would be under Communism, and as a result show their appreciation in this way.

SOON AFTER Ruth arrived, and we had become fairly well settled, we got notice that the car was at Bremerhaven. We decided to go up on Saturday and see the port on Sunday, then get the car on Monday. I had to miss school for one day, and managed to get orders cut sending me to Bremerhaven. I took the orders to the train station, and asked if I could buy a ticket for my wife. I was told that I did not need one for her, so off we went. We got on a train here at Stuttgart at 3:00 p.m. on Saturday. It was a good looking job, by comparison with the regular trains. But, it was a military train. I do not believe the Germans use anything but third class travel. It is probably that no one has the money to go first class. The food in the diner was fine — one meal, one price. Breakfast was 30 cents, and dinner and supper were 45 cents each. Of course, the waiters were tops.

WE HAD a pleasant trip to Frankfurt, where I dashed off the train and across the street to the hotel where I had forgotten my hat when coming through from the States. It was still there, and I managed to get back to the train O.K. We did not, at this point, have a berth for the remainder of the trip north, so I spoke to the train commander. He said to take a seat and he would come up and see us as soon as we left the station. Sure enough he came up as we were leaving the station and looked over our papers. He told me I was supposed to have a ticket for my wife. After some hemming and hawing, he gave us the last double berth left on the train. What an experience! The "roomette" was small but very neat and clean, and really quite nice. Every niche and corner had been put to good use. We paid the porter nine DM and had a very nice sleep. The next morning when we arrived in Bremerhaven, we had to buy a ticket from Frankfurt, which cost 26 DM.

BRIMERHAVEN is an interesting spot. It is the one and only port that we have in Europe for supplying Germany, as I understand. We have one in France for maintaining our supply in that area, I believe. The city must have been completely leveled. There are no buildings for many blocks, and for some reason the tremendous rebuilding we have seen elsewhere seems to be lacking. Perhaps the people are not there to do it now that Germany has been little merchant marine. Bremerhaven is being rebuilt, it is just not on as great a scale as we have seen elsewhere.

We saw several things of interest. An old mine sweeper was tied to the side of a small deadend canal, and had been made into a drug store. It was unique, but had surely run into disaster! Then we came up to a gate where a guard was standing, and we spoke to him. He worked for a fishing corporation that had owned 200 ships before the war. It has in operation now 25 ships.

WE WENT on toward the center of the town, and entered the American sector and got a ferry to take us out to the American installations. It was early, so he took us on a sight-seeing tour. We got a good look at everything. At one point he suggested that Ruth sit up on the back of the boat so that I could get a picture of her with the ships in the background, as well as the German flag on the rear of his boat. He was helping us, and left the controls of the boat for a moment. As a result we got into some forbidden territory and got tangled up in some fishing lines. The fisherman and he had a big argument, and the boat man had to pay 3 DM for getting the lines all messed up. When we got back we paid him for the damage done, and he looked very pleased. I am sure the picture we got with his help is worth an extra 75 cents.

I was most surprised at the German part of the harbor. There were many ships just sitting and rusting for lack of funds to put them into operation, I imagine. Some of them are beyond use from sitting so many years, but I would think that they would cut them up for scrap, or drag them out in the ocean and let them sink. What a waste of space — but then, I guess dock space does not cost what it does in New York City.

WE FOUND a wonderful zoo in Bremerhaven, the best one I have been to for a dozen years. (Come to think of it, I have not been to one for a dozen years.) It was built into some rocks on the shore of the North Sea, and had seals, penguins, kangaroo, all sorts of birds, monkeys, bears, and even an ostrich. There was also an aquarium. We spent a great deal of time at the zoo, and then went next door and had a good meal on an open porch overlooking the harbor. It was nice and sunny, which is somewhat of an oddity there, I understand. It is usually rainy and dark. We were just lucky. We got a room for the night in a very swanky German hotel because Ruth could not stay with me in government quarters since she was not on my orders. Ruth and I had walked probably all of 20 miles during the day, so we were both tired and turned in early.

We got the car the next morning. I had previously taken out insurance to the tune of $150, and everything was in order. The car had one tire low, and the battery was low also, so they had to push the car to get it started. We bought a ration book for gas. We are allowed 100 gallons a month, so we pay $15.25 and are given a little booklet. Whenever we get gas, we tear out enough coupons to cover the purchase.

AS WE STARTED our trip of over 400 miles back to Stuttgart, we began to run into a number of problems that will, I am sure, plague us for as long as we stay in Europe. First, directional signs are put in just the wrong places. If one comes to a circular traffic center, all one needs in order to follow the route is an eye in the back of his head! Really, it would be funny if it were not so darn inconvenient. The other problem is the rotten manners of the drivers over here. I think I will forever be glad to parry bumpers with any of the road hogs back home. The trucks here are especially bad. They just will not let one pass, or help out by moving over. We have been edged off the road twice so far. Once we were coming over the crest of a hill and found the whole road full of trucks — two abreast. Do you know how we resolved this little situation? The truck driver in our lane accelerated, and the truck in the proper lane put on the brakes, and by following their motions (I was ready to take to the fields) we snaked way over to the left past the one truck, then to the right past the other.

WE MADE good time once we reached the autobahn which, I might add, is as good as any super highway in the States, and were able to reach Stuttgart at about 8:00 p.m. We cleaned up and went to a PTA meeting at school. We were about one half hour late, and toward the end of the meeting were introduced. I told them that I was sorry we were late, but that we had been at Bremerhaven at ten that morning and had paced ourselves to reach Stuttgart in time for the meeting. However, in our calculations we had neglected to include an extra half hour for finding Stuttgart from the autobahn. This brought the roof down, because everyone has trouble getting off the autobahn, and they all knew what I meant.

We covered a lot of ground fast, but saw a number of the large cities, as well as some beautiful forests. The country is beautiful.

Stearns Principal Discusses Math

The Stearns School is having a very interesting P.T.A. Meeting on Thursday, January 12 at 8 p.m. The principal, Herbert J. Callahan, is going to discuss the subject "Arithmetic in Today's Stearns School." There will be an opportunity for questions following the talk. The classrooms will then be open so that parents can see their children's work and visit with the teachers. Refreshments will be served afterwards.

With her waltz-length white nylon chiffon gown the bride wore a shoulder length tulle veil held by a crown of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a combination of white orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Lynn Markham of Fitchburg, college roommate of the bride, was matron of honor. She carried pink tea roses and blue snapdragons with her ice blue crystal gown. Mrs. Berry chose a dress of dusty rose and gold taffeta for her daughter's wedding while the mother of the bridegroom wore a beige brocade.

Robert Brown served as best man for his brother, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lincoln Brown of Swampscott. Both Mr. Brown and his bride are graduates of Middlebury College. He prepared at Hebron Academy. They will make their home in Marblehead.

The debutant's mother wore a gown of pale blue lace over pleated tulle with mother-of-pearl trim at the neckline. The two sub-deb sisters of Miss Galvin, Noreen and Priscilla, attended the party as did her teen-age brother, Michael, and eight-year-old sister, Gail. Gail, the youngest guest at the party, was charming in her pink nylon frock with miniature nosegay of sweetheart roses.

Cadillac

Not Wealthy... Just Wise!

Most people think that the gentleman who owns and drives a new Cadillac must necessarily be blessed with an abundance of this world's goods.

But the truth of the matter is that a great many motorists of relatively modest means—like the happy man you see here—sit at the wheel of the "car of cars."

For wisdom and practicality lead to Cadillac—just as surely as prominence and prosperity!

Listen, for a moment, to this remarkable assembly of facts—and see if you don't agree.

The Series Sixty-Two Coupe... the beautiful and inspiring motor car pictured above... costs just a few dollars more than many cars in the "medium-price" bracket.

Cadillac's dependability is so extraordinary that the car is virtually free from all but the purely routine requirements of service.

A Cadillac stretches a gallon of gasoline over so many miles that it is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in this regard.

And a Cadillac will retain its value over the years better than any other automobile in the land.

The conclusion is, we think, self-evident: Cadillac ownership is not only wonderful and thrilling—but sound and sensible as well.

Why not stop in soon for a look and a ride?

You'll discover the most beautiful Cadillac ever built... the finest-performing Cadillac of all time... and the greatest value in Cadillac history.

That's Cadillac's magical combination for 1956—and it's waiting for you now in our showroom.

True Consciousness Heals, States Paul Stark Seeley

Practical application of man's God-given consciousness brings health and healing, said Paul Stark Seeley of Portland, Oregon, at a Christian Science lecture Friday evening, January 6.

Using daily the constructive ideas of life which the only true Mind, God, gives him as his real consciousness, the individual proves prayer to be effective, Mr. Seeley said.

"Health appears in place of sickness, happiness in place of discord, because false mortal material consciousness is yielding to true consciousness, the Mind and Life that is God," he declared.

Currently or extended tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Mr. Seeley spoke under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton in the church edifice, 391 Walnut Street, Newtonville. He spoke on the subject, "Christian Science: The Healing Power of True Consciousness." He was introduced by Mrs. Marshall Reading, Second Reader.

The pattern of a man's life, he said, is formed and developed by his individual thinking — by the thoughts he will or will not accept as his consciousness. By choosing good and constructive ideas he improves his lot; by neglecting to do so he dwells in his experience," he declared.

Human progress is always possible, he maintained, because "no one has to accept as his consciousness today what he accepted yesterday."

By replacing inferior thoughts with more constructive ones, he said, men and women are learning to improve their consciousness and to cope more effectively with disease, worry and other everyday problems.

"Christ Jesus accomplished his great mission, first subjugating and ultimately destroying matter, sin, disease, and death, because from boyhood he steadily entertained, understood, and used the true or spiritual ideas of being which were given of God and which constituted his true consciousness," he declared.

All really good thoughts, such as truthfulness, justice, and goodwill, he said, originate in the immortal, universal Mind. "That is so," he stated, "whether they appear in the consciousness of Asians, Africans, or Americans, or perhaps in the consciousness of the people of a world a million light years away."

Evil thoughts — regardless of where they appear — have their sources, he added, in the erroneous or false sense of mind, or devil.

Mr. Seeley described human consciousness with its mixture of good and evil thoughts as the field of tares and wheat referred to in the parable of Christ Jesus.

"His remedy," he said, "was to separate the tares — all the thoughts and concepts that come from evil mortal mind — from the wheat — the thoughts and ideas that express the one altogether good and constructive Mind — and burn the tares, destroy the negative through understanding the reality of the positive."

Jesus proved that evil is a liar and that God maintains His own children diseaseless, pure, unafflicted, and free, he stated.

To illustrate, he reminded his audience of Jesus' healing of the ten afflicted with leprosy. With his God-given spiritual consciousness, Jesus realized, he said, that "what physical sight saw as ten hopeless lepers was an outlined falsity of the one liar, mortal mind."

"He knew that the only true individuality of man, and so of these men, was not made of perishable flesh," he said, adding that because "there was no disease conceived by perfect Mind, God, there could be no disease in the individualized manifestation of God, man."

Describing Jesus' thoughts as

"prayerful protests of Truth," the lecturer added that these true ideas of God counteracted the lie of disease and the leprosy disappeared.

"The Christ method of healing, using the ideas that constitute man's true consciousness, is for all time," he declared.

Mr. Seeley described the healing of a friend who like the ten lepers had apparently been condemned to die. After a week away from his desk with what appeared to be influenza, he was sent by his employer for a physical examination.

His condition was diagnosed as extreme enlargement of the heart, virus pneumonia, and infection of various parts of the body, he said. "The doctor said there was no hope of recovery, and ordered the patient to the hospital."

The man insisted upon returning home and calling a Christian Science practitioner. "The practitioner," he said, "utilized in her prayers the ideas which belong to man's true consciousness — the true idea of God as infinite and eternal Mind and Love, and man, ever of and in God, conditioned by God with his health-giving, harmony-producing laws or spiritual forces."

"Seven weeks after the doctor's verdict of incurability, he was able to go fishing," the lecturer said.

He was given a check-up including a number of X-rays and returned to work with a complete clearance. "A year later a second examination showed the healing was permanent," he added.

To further illustrate the availability of divine power to solve health and other problems today, the lecturer told how a Christian Scientist used his understanding of God-given consciousness to settle an important labor dispute and how another helped a friend cope effectively with the flu.

Mankind's worst enemy is a false concept of God and man, he said, adding that through scientific prayer men and women are progressively learning that God is the only real Mind of man.

In closing his lecture Mr. Seeley quoted the following passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p.276) by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science: "Man and his Maker are correlated in divine Science, and real consciousness is cognizant only of the things of God."

Churches

Newton Methodist Church. Dr. Paul Uhlinger, Minister, Newton. "This Wide, Wide World" will be the sermon by Dr. Paul Uhlinger this Sunday morning at 10:45 a.m. at the Newton Methodist Church. The message will be the first in a series in January on: "The World and They that Dwell Therein." Mention will be made, Dr. Uhlinger states, that the vastness of God's world has increasingly become aware to us through the telescope and microscope. The Junior and Youth Departments of the Church School will meet at 9:30 a.m. in Fellowship Hall and the Nursery, Kindergarten, and Primary Departments at 10:35. The Youth Fellowship of the Church will meet in the Trowbridge Room at 6 p.m. Mrs. Henry E. Horn, wife of the pastor of the University Lutheran Church in Cambridge, will speak at the regular meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Newton Church Tuesday evening, 8 p.m. in Fellowship Hall. "Parents Need Training, Too," will be her subject. A graduate of Cornell University where she later taught, Mrs. Horn also lectured on Marriage and the Family at Oregon State College and Marlon College in Marion, Virginia. Mrs. Thomas Fox will lead the devotions and the Friendly Circle will be the hostesses. The public is invited, Mrs. Fred Hawkins, president of the organization announces. The Commission on Membership and Evangelism will meet on Monday at 7:45 p.m. in the parsonage at 30 Wesley street, Miss Lavinia Whidden, chairman states. The Commission on Education will meet Wednesday, January 11th at 7:45 p.m. at the same 30 Wesley street address, Mrs. Elliott Steinman announces.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Newton 391 Walnut Street, Newtonville; Sunday morning service 10:45; Sunday School at the same hour; Wednesday evening testimony meeting at 8:00.

Man's God-given right to health and healing will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon on the subject of "Life." Christ Jesus' healing of the centurion's servant who "was sick, and ready to die" (Luke 7) will be among the accounts of the life-giving power of God to be read from the King James Version of the Bible. Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include the following (369:18): "Jesus never asked if disease were acute or chronic, and he never recommended attention to laws of health, never gave drugs, never prayed to know if God were willing that a man should live. He understood man, whose Life is God, to be immortal, and knew that man has not two lives, one to be destroyed and the other to be made indestructible."

Bloodmobile to Visit W. Newton January 18

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be at the Unitarian Church, 1326 Washington street in West Newton Wednesday, January 18.

Donor hours are from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. Call LAseel 7-6000 for appointment or walk in. 200 Donors are needed.

Air Vigilance Is Necessary

Interceptor planes of the United States Air Force take to the skies above Massachusetts on an average of 12 times a day — and have done so for many months — to check "unidentified aircraft" approaching this country from the east or northeast. This was stated by Major Franklin G. Woodward, USAF, Ground Observer Corps Coordinator, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, State Civil Defense Office, Natick, speaking at the regular weekly meeting of the Newton Rotary Club at Brae Burn Country Club, West Newton Monday.

Although radar accounts for many of the first warnings of such craft, Major Woodward said, members of the Ground Observer Corps, of which there are some 10,000 throughout Massachusetts, also have reported many such "unidentified" craft. Major Woodward was introduced by Dr. Charles A. Haney, Newtonville.

This continued vigilance against aircraft is necessitated, Major Woodward stated, because both in Soviet writing and, more recently in public utterances by the Soviet Union's head man, it has been stated that Soviet domination of the world will come first through "peace offensives" to be followed by surprise attacks by air and sea. It is known, Major Woodward added, that Russia has been adding to its fleet of heavy, long-distance bombers, and that it is rapidly building up its reserve of its newly announced supersonic jet bomber.

TELE-NEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

If you're planning on buying a new television set you've got a lot of questions in your mind. Among them are such factors as what size set to buy, whether to get a table model or a full console, whether to choose a fine wood cabinet or a plastic finish.

As for the difference between a wood cabinet and one finished in plastic or some other material, most experts say there's little to choose in performance. The same TV chassis will give much the same result in different cabinets. There is a difference in beauty, of course. Polished woods match the furniture in your home and have a lustrous beauty of their own. Since the TV set is a focal point in today's home, its styling and cabinet finish will get a lot of attention.

The choice of table model or console is partly one of utility . . . the place the set will occupy in your home . . . and also of price. Table models cost less, can fit conveniently on a table, on legs, in den or dining room as well as living room. A console needs more of a place. At the same time, in a console you'll often get improvements over the table model — larger speakers and better sound reproduction, for instance . . . and "extras" in the receiver itself. We'll be glad to talk over your choice with you . . . and to show you the complete lines of RCA VICTOR, GE, SYLVANIA and many other fine TV sets in our selection.

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Political Groundwork Being Laid to Nominate Herter And Kennedy for Vice President on Respective Tickets

It's possible that Governor Christian A. Herter and Senator John F. Kennedy might be the rival nominees for Vice President in next November's election.

That conjecture presupposes that President Eisenhower will be a candidate for reelection and that Adlai E. Stevenson will be the Democratic standard-bearer against him.

A great deal of political groundwork is being done in Washington in behalf of both Herter and Kennedy as Vice Presidential prospects.

Shrewd Republican politicians now declare that if Mr. Eisenhower consents to stand for a second term, the choice of a running mate to team up with him on the GOP national ticket will lie between Herter and Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

They reveal that there is a strong and influential group of Republicans who do not want Nixon in a position where he is but one human life away from the Presidency and that these leaders are joining in an energetic movement in behalf of Herter.

Congressman John W. Heselson of Deerfield, Herter's former associate in Congress and his gubernatorial campaign manager, is spearheading the drive for Herter, and he is getting effective help from prominent Republicans in all sections of the country.

New Vice-chairman Of Nursing Service

The Newton Chapter American Red Cross has announced that Miss Sophie C. Nelson, R.N. of Newton, has accepted the position of vice chairman of Nursing Services for the Chapter.

THE NAME Sophie Nelson is well known in Medical, Nursing and Public Health circles. As Dr. Clarence L. Scammon, Chairman of the Shattuck Award Committee and Medical Director of the Massachusetts Cancer Society, stated, "Her list of accomplishments fills a whole page of copy."

This statement was made last October when Dr. Scammon presented Miss Nelson the coveted Shattuck award for "distinguished service in public health in New England."

Overseas for 21 months with the American Red Cross during World War I, she worked with children and refugees in France. In 1919 she was named superintendent of the Louisville, Kentucky, Public Health Nursing Association. Shortly thereafter she was named Field Director of the Red Cross Nursing Services for Central Europe and the Balkans. She has been awarded medals by the governments of France, Serbia, Austria and Hungary, and in 1951 received the Florence Nightingale Medal of the American Red Cross.

MISS NELSON is a past president of the National Organization of Public Health Nursing and also of the Massachusetts Public Health Association. She

Legion Drive Obtains $500

Posts Here Aid Polio Fund In Freezing Rain

Even as Newton March of Dimes Treasurer John Balkus announced that cash receipts are so heavy it is impossible to keep up with the mail sacks pouring in, the Newton Legion Posts reported to drive officials that they raised $500 in freezing rain during their Blue Crutch drive last Friday and Saturday.

LEGIONNAIRES and their auxiliary members braved the bad weather to collect money in canisters at key busy spots throughout the city. For each contribution they presented the donor with a tiny blue crutch—symbolizing rehabilitation.

Nonantum Post and its auxiliary raised the largest amount—$195. Other posts participating were Newton Women's Post, Newton Post and its auxiliary, and Carson Post with its auxiliary. Burns-Kerr Post was unable to participate in the weekend drive but will make its contribution from proceeds of a whist party held this Tuesday at the Newton City Hall Cafeteria.

Frederick A. Hunt of Waban and John F. Finnerty of Newton Centre, co-chairmen of the 1956 fund drive and both Boston attorneys, reported today that individual donations received to date are averaging one-third larger than was the case a year ago; this obviously reflects public response to the announcement by the co-chairman a week ago that patient-care costs in 1956 will be more than double that of 1955. (See open letter from March of Dimes Committee elsewhere in this paper.)

MONDAY was one of the biggest days for coin-card returns in Newton March of Dimes fund-raising history, with $800 being tabulated in all. Special gifts topped $2000 this week, setting a new high. Total donations from all sources came to $8500 late yesterday—still a long way from the fund goal.

The Committee today renewed its appeal for donations to the 1956 fund drive. "Unless more residents 'get on the

Dr. T. M. Gallagher Service Tomorrow

Funeral services for Dr. Thomas Morton Gallagher, 83, Middlesex County medical examiner for nearly a quarter of a century, will be held tomorrow morning (Friday) with a Solemn Requiem Mass at 10 o'clock. Dr. Gallagher died suddenly from a heart condition at his home, 31 Channing street, Newton, Monday night.

DR. GALLAGHER was the oldest medical examiner in the state, both in years and service. He became associate medical examiner in Middlesex Southern District in 1912 and in 1933 was appointed medical examiner by Governor Joseph B. Ely.

Co-founder of the Massachusetts Medico-Legal Society, Dr. Gallagher, working with Dr. William J. Brickley, was instrumental in working with the Harvard Medical School and the State Department of Public Safety to set up a State Department of Legal Medicine and a state pathologist.

Dr. Gallagher was a member of the Newton Board of Aldermen from 1928 to 1938 and each time he was elected he received the highest vote in the city. He was chairman of the Public Buildings Committee and a member of the Water Committee. For four years he was vice-president of the Board.

DURING his lifetime career he had been a newspaper man, football player and sportsman. Born in Wellesley in 1872, he was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gallagher. He graduated from Harvard College and Harvard Medical School, receiving his MD degree in 1898. While at Harvard he was a member of the football squad and was a member of the world championship team of the Boston Athletic Association in 1894.

He also played on the Newton Athletic Association team.

Dr. Gallagher also belonged to the Massachusetts Medical Society, was a fellow of the American Medical Association, and for two terms was president of the Massachusetts Legal Medical Society. During World War I he was a member of the Exemption Board.

HIS WIFE, Mary C. (Cronin) Gallagher, died last September.

Dr. Gallagher is survived by a daughter, Mrs. John L. Delaney of Belmont, three grandchildren, and a sister, Mrs. Beatrice Sheridan of Wellesley. Burial will be in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

Approval of Bus Route Is Granted

Permits for the extension of bus lines to service the new Meadowbrook Junior High School, Oak Hill, were granted by the Board of Aldermen Monday night to the Middlesex and Boston Street Railway.

A REQUEST of the School Department brought about the action, President John H. Walsh reported. Petition for the additional service will have to be approved by the State Department of Public Utilities.

The new service will include the "indiscriminate receiving and discharging of passengers," along the route. Starting on or about January 30, the vote will be as follows:

From the corner of Winchester and Dedham streets, Newton Highlands, via Dedham street to Walnut and Dedham streets, Newton Highlands.

FROM the corner of Dedham street and Meadowbrook road, Oak Hill, via Meadowbrook road, to the corner of Meadowbrook road and Wheeler road, Oak Hill.

Democratic Club To Meet Feb. 7th

The Executive Committee of the Newton Democratic Club today announced plans for their first meeting of 1956 which will be held on February 7. This meeting will kick off the Democratic registration drive for this important election year. Outstanding Democratic leaders will address the expected large gathering in what will be the beginning of a continued effort on the part of the Newton Democratic Club to bring to the people of Newton the candidates and principles of the Democratic Party.

The Newton Young Men's Christian Association will be one of over 1,800 YMCA's in the country celebrating National YMCA Week this coming January 22 to January 29, 1956. A week long service of programs open to the public will be presented in an effort to graphically portray the YMCA's function in Newton.

THE WEEK will start with YMCA Sunday, Jan. 22, in the churches of Newton. Special Sunday bulletins will be used by many churches and YMCA speakers will be heard in some.

A ministers' luncheon will be held Tuesday, January 24, with all the ministers of Newton invited to attend. On Thursday morning the women's physical education class will hold a guest open house and invite all women to join in their regular gymnasium and swimming classes.

The week will be brought to a climax on Saturday afternoon with a gigantic Open House featuring hobby shows, movies, gymnasium classes, handball, squash, trampoline, basketball and an exciting frogmash demonstration in the YMCA pool.

SINCE the first YMCA in the United States was established in Boston over one hundred years ago the movement has spread rapidly until now over 3,453,400 people are members of YMCA's. YMAC "firsts" include organized summer camping, basketball, volleyball, national aquatic program and emergence and emphasis on modern physical education.

A public hearing will be held February 6 on the petition to permit Sunday bowling, in the city, the Board of Aldermen voted Monday night at its meeting.

THE REQUEST was filed by Albert O. Sinoyan of 49 Sterling street, West Newton, proprietor of the Garden City Bowladrome, 320 Washington street, Newton.

Sunday bowling was approved by the Board of Aldermen last October. Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., however, vetoed the law. His decision was influenced by the number of protests following the unanimous approval of Sunday bowling by the Board of Aldermen.

A public hearing, should be held before the Board acted the mayor stated. Mr. Sinoyan's request which has re-

Jaycees Make Award At Annual Dinner Held Tuesday Night

Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr., on Tuesday evening presented the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award Citation and Key at a dinner at the Pillar House to Carleton P. Merrill, as Newton's outstanding young man for the year 1955.

The panel of judges which selected Mr. Merrill from nominations made from all over the city consisted of Arthur T. Gregorian, George R. Strandberg and Col. Arthur J. Swett.

Mayor Whitmore in making the presentation said, "Carleton P. Merrill is a man of unusual character, an inspiration to those who have known him."

Mr. Merrill is 31, married and a veteran of the Army Air Force. A native of Newton, he has long been active in the civic affairs of the city. At present he is serving his second term on the Board of Aldermen, he is a past president of the Newton Junior Chamber of Commerce and was one of its charter members. Merrill is second vice chairman of the Newton Republican City Committee and a member of the executive board of the Newton Republican Club.

IN RECENT YEARS he has served in various capacities in many charitable drives, including Community Chest, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Heart Fund, and March of Dimes.

Mr. Merrill is employed by Sykes, Inc., of Newton as a salesman.

As technical and safety director of the North American Racing Association, Mr. Merrill has contributed much to the safety of supervised automobile racing and has been cited for his work.

Col. Swett on behalf of the judges of the Distinguished Service Award said, "This award has been given to Carle-

Pay Increase Voted Department Heads

The Board of Aldermen Monday night approved an appropriation of $47,789.53 to put into effect the re-classification of city employees, as recommended by Mayor Howard Whitmore, Jr.

COVERED by the appropriation were increases for all department heads, except the city physician, and ranged from $400 to $1,200. All increases are retroactive to Jan. 1.

The Finance Committee, in presenting the favorable report, pointed out that the plan is the result of a long study. Most employees, on an hourly basis, were granted a 5-cent an hour increase Jan. 2. Inadvertently omitted on Jan. 2, employees of the Building and Recreation departments were granted the 5-cent an hour increase Monday night.

CHAIRMAN Earle D. Wood of the Finance Committee pointed out the present board cannot commit future boards to the increments recommended but they do fill a definite need, he said.

"Employees and taxpayers should benefit by the efficient operation of the plan," Chairman Wood stated.

The total annual salaries of department heads will be increased from $148,382.97 to $159,656. The salaries of department heads, which in many cases were less than recommended by Mayor Whitmore, were as follows:

Nominating Committee for a term of two years: Mrs. Curtis B. Forbes, Mrs. Earl H. Dearborn, Mrs. Edward Horowitz, and Mrs. Francis R. Sullivan.

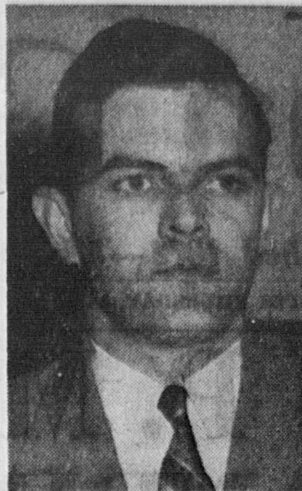

In reporting the year's accomplishments, Mrs. Gregorian pointed up our continued membership growth, our grave financial needs — for greater Chest support and our strengthened Council under the Association form of organization. Newton Camping needs were presented succinctly through the panel "Quizzing the Experts" with Mrs. Earl B. Bourne as Moderator. The East — West Toll Road deprives the Newton Girl Scouts of established camping at Camp Mary Day.

THE EVENING'S program climaxed in a pageant depicting the Highlights of the Annual Report and the presentation of Service Awards, five, ten, fifteen, twenty-five and thirty year pins for service to the Girl Scout movement.

Awards of Thanks Badges were also made to Neighborhood Chairman, Mrs. W. Staunton Crean of the Sacred Heart Neighborhood, and to Mrs. Grace LePore and Mrs. Stanley Johnson for outstanding service to Newton Girl Scouts during recent years. Mrs. Earl Bourne former Commissioner and Moderator of the Panel Discussion during the evening was also awarded a Girl Scout Statuette.

Preceding the evening program which concluded with the Installation of New Officers and Taps, a buffet supper was served under the chairmanship of Mrs. Sumner Stroyman and Mrs. Walter Lieberg with Senior Scouts assisting. As special thankyou to the retiring President for three years of fine leadership the Newton Girl Scout Council surprised Mrs. Gregorian with a Thanks Badge, presented by Mrs. Derr. ARRANGEMENTS for this second Association Girl Scout Council meeting were under the chairmanship of Mrs. Stanley T. Johnson, Council meetings committee chairman, assisted by Mrs. Richard F. Cleveland in charge of Senior Scout participation, Mrs. Samuel Handler, Mrs. Nathan D. Bugbee, and members of the Public Relations Committee.

bandwagon' and keep this drive snowballing along at its current record pace," the co-chairman declared, "we are not going to be able to pay all the hospital bills for Newton polio patients during the coming year. Newtonites must dig a little deeper this year to take care of their own." The co-chairmen continued, pointing out that "a donation to the drive is somewhat like taking out a low-cost health insurance policy—if polio strikes your home, the Newton March of Dimes will pay all hospital and medical bills, relieving you of that great burden that might extend for months or even years."

ACTING as general chairman of the Newton Blue Crutch "tag days" program was Pat Panaggio, sub-district commander. He worked with the two chairmen on arrangements and collections from the individual Posts.

Members of the Newton Post and Auxiliary who worked in the drive are, besides Mr. Panaggio, Commander and Mrs. Roger Morrocco, James DiLillo, past commander; Michael Bell, Jack Panaggio, Louis Civetti, Guido Cetrone, Lawrence Civetti, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vassalotti, Joseph Tramotozzi, Daniel Magni,

An Open Letter To Newton Residents:

NEWTON MARCH OF DIMES COMMITTEE

Frederick A. Hunt
co-chairman

John Balkus
treasurer

John F. Finnerty
co-chairman

Dear Reader:

You were generous during last year's March of Dimes drive. We thought it only fair to report to you on what we did during 1955 with your contribution.

Last January $26,777 was raised in Newton. All but $78 of this total had to be spent during 1955 caring for Newton residents who had been stricken with polio. Now the money is gone. But, unfortunately, polio is still very much with us. During the past year, 117 more Newton residents were felled by polio. Hospital bills for Newton polio patients will reach the staggering figure of $58,000 (more than $1100 per week) during the coming year.

Perhaps you were lucky in 1955. Perhaps the insidious, unpredictable polio virus didn't enter your home. Perhaps you didn't personally see the misery and heart-break and despair that an attack from this crippling — even killing — virus causes.

Polio might have struck your home. If it did, we were standing by ready to help. In one Newton home, six children AND the family "breadwinner" were all afflicted by this dread disease. The Newton March of Dimes Committee paid all of this family's costly hospital and medical bills... using money you donated last January.

If it weren't for your generous contribution last January, the 1955 polio epidemic would have been disastrous in Newton. Thanks to your aid, we were able to work miracles of relief and recovery among Newton polio patients.

And now the time is here again to think of your fellow Garden Citizens — many of whom are ALIVE today in iron lungs only because of your generosity. We face a staggering task of caring for and rehabilitating Newton's polio patients during 1956.

Won't you help us out? We would appreciate it if you will place a generous contribution in your coin card and drop it in the mail today. (Or if you have misplaced your coin card, please mail your contribution to: John Balkus; Newton March of Dimes Treasurer; c/o Newton National Bank, Newton, Mass.) Make checks payable to Newton March of Dimes.

Gratefully yours,

Richard P. Jennett

"The provisions of the Act, Chapter 207, was accepted by the Board of Aldermen under Order No. 108,822, adopted in October 1955. However, the order was vetoed by the mayor and the veto was sustained by the Board of Aldermen on November 7."

Miss Eleanor Elliott, supervisor of art, will with the aid of parent members demonstrate the various phases of art. Parents will have the opportunity to paint, and slides of the children's work will be shown. Mr. James H. Remley, supervisor of music in the Newton schools for the past 14 years, will present an actual demonstration of the seashore test. This is the test for musical ability which is given to all fourth grade children in the public schools of this city.

A fund of fascinating knowledge is in store for all who attend. The program has been prepared by Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Mescon, program chairmen, and will commence at 8 p.m. sharp. The classrooms will be open at 7:30 p.m. so that parents will be able to visit each room, and get a birds-eye view of what the future classrooms hold in store for their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Feldman, chairmen of the ways and means committee, have plans underway for an exciting third birthday party on February 2. There will be fun for the children in a daytime program, and a gala evening for the parents.

Dr. Fred Goodsell To Address Mission School

Dr. Fred Field Goodsell, of Boston, internationally known Congregational churchman and missionary statesman, will speak Sunday evening at 7 o'clock, January 22, at the second session of the School of Missions being held at the First Baptist Church in Newton Centre. His subject is "The Church in a Revolutionary World".

FOR 23 YEARS a missionary educator under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions in the Near East, especially Turkey, Dr. Goodsell was called to international headquarters in Boston in 1930 to serve as First Vice President of the American Board until 1949.

In intimate touch with the developing ecumenical movement over the last 25 years, Dr. Goodsell has been a leader in the councils of the International Missionary Council and is now a member of the North American Advisory Committee to the International Missionary Council. This I.M.C., made up of 35 national or regional co-operative organizations around the world, is the recognized coordinating agency of the worldwide missionary movement of the Protestant Churches.

A WORLD traveler, having made two comprehensive world tours and innumerable trips to Great Britain, the Middle East, and Central Europe, Dr. Goodsell knows the world about which he speaks from first-hand contact.

The Senior High students will hear Rev. Walter C. Tong speak on "Vocations and Missions". Mr. Tong had been serving as a Congregational missionary in the Philippines for some years when the Japanese invaded the Islands. Mr. and Mrs. Tong were held in different concentration camps for about two years. For some years now he has been the Candidate Secretary for the American Board.

Public Indifference A Matter of Concern

The danger of public indifference to our mounting problems in education was emphasized by Rod McLeish, Radio News editor of WBZ when he spoke to more than 100 men and women working on various committees for the Newton White House Conference at a meeting held last week at the Pierce School in West Newton.

Rep. Irene K. Thresher, Joseph Kaplan and Haskell Freedman, all delegates to the White House Conference on Education in Washington last November spoke briefly of their impressions of concerns of a national nature. Conference consultant

Bill Swartley, Vice President of Westinghouse Broadcasting activities in Boston further underlined the necessity of community awareness and interest in his introduction of Mr. McLeish, who was in Washington as special correspondent to the President's conference for all Westinghouse Radio Stations.

EVERY CITIZEN in Newton is invited to the Newton White House Conference on Education—whether a taxpayer or the parent of a child in a public, parochial or private school.

The Conference will take place at Newton High School, Friday evening and Saturday morning and afternoon, March 16 and 17.

This is the conference in which everyone will have an opportunity to discuss and ask questions about Newton's educational program. Such questions as "How can we get good teachers and keep them?", "My child is a brilliant student; does he get special attention in school?", and "What is going to be done about expanding our already overcrowded high school?" have already been received by the conference committee. These questions and others of vital concern will be discussed during the conference.

Mrs. James H. Zimmer is chairman of the conference, which is predicted to be one of the largest conferences ever held in this State on the school problems of one city.

IF YOU HAVE a question

like the ones your neighbors are asking, you'll have a chance to air them at the Conference. Newton's schools are rated among the finest in the United States. Why? Can we keep them that way? Can we make them even better? Do colleges have that high an opinion of the Newton schools?

A large portion of your tax dollar is going into our public schools, even if your child attends a private or parochial school.

Set aside March 16 and 17 on your calendar. They are important dates for you.

The regular meeting of the American Legion, Newton Post number 48, will be held to night (Thursday), at 8 p. m. in the War Memorial Building. After refreshments two films will be shown. The subject of the first, and the seaboard air raid system will be discussed in the second.

— Political Overtones —

Strangely enough, virtually all the talk about placing Herter on the Republican national ticket starts on the assumption that President Eisenhower will be a candidate.

When this writer ventured to ask what would be likely to happen, if Ike declines to run, he was told that little thought is being given to such a possibility. Pressed further, the Republican leaders said that a wide open scramble would result in such an event, with its outcome shrouded in uncertainty, but that Herter's chances probably would be about as good as anyone else's.

This observer was astonished to learn that President Eisenhower did not even know Nixon, when the latter was selected in 1952 as his ticket mate and the GOP nominee for Vice President.

Nixon was chosen by the men who had managed Ike's campaign for the Republican Presidential nomination and who had directed the fight which resulted in his victory over the late Senator Robert A. Taft at the Chicago convention after Taft seemingly had the endorsement within his grasp.

Looking back now at the events of 1952, that is not difficult to believe. Eisenhower returned to this country from Europe only a short time before the Chicago convention. For all practical purposes he was a novice in politics, and he simply relied on the advice of the professional politicians around him.

When it was evident that Ike would win his fight, the leaders in his campaign sat down in a Chicago hotel room—the traditional smoke-filled room—to decide upon the selection of his Vice Presidential running mate.

The then General Eisenhower didn't even take part in the discussion. He didn't know enough about the situation. He was strictly a military man, who had been absorbed by his duties in Europe until a short time earlier, and he didn't know one Vice Presidential prospect from another.

Men like former Governor Dewey of New York, ex-Governor Fine of Pennsylvania, the then Governor Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts and comparable Republican leaders from other parts of the country participated in the conference. They went over the list of possibilities, discussed their strong points and the strength they would draw to the GOP ticket and finally settled on Nixon because of the role he had played in breaking the Alger Hiss case.

Then word was sent out to the leaders in the various State delegations that Eisenhower wanted Nixon as the Vice Presidential nominee, and Nixon was nominated.

That's how the Vice Presidential candidate was selected at the Republican national convention in 1952, and that's how it will be done at most future conventions.

Nixon Has Not Been Popular with Leaders

Nixon, to put it bluntly, has not worn well with the men who were responsible for pulling him up into national prominence, and there are some indications that he hasn't worn much better with the rank and file of the people.

It's difficult to pinpoint the reason for the antipathy to Nixon, but it is a fact that President Eisenhower's tremendous popularity has not rubbed off on him.

President Eisenhower, according to Republican leaders who should know what they're talking about, does like Nixon and, if he decides to run again, may want Nixon on the ticket with him.

But, as some of the GOP politicians put it, he may have to be pretty strong in the expression of his wishes in order to get Nixon.

The impression in Republican circles is that Mr. Eisenhower, who still does not regard himself as either an expert or scholar at the art of politics, will rely on his advisers next summer, just as he did in 1952 and that if they insist Nixon should be dropped, he'll accede to their views.

Congressman Heselson and the other men beating the drums for Governor Herter are aware of all this. They know how Vice Presidential candidates are chosen, and you may be sure that they are doing their work where it is likely to show the most effective results.

They are not out stumping in New Hampshire's snow-covered hamlets or lining up votes in Minnesota. They're spreading the word among the men who will choose the Vice Presidential candidate in a hotel suite out in Los Angeles next August—if President Eisenhower runs again.

A few things should be kept in mind concerning Governor Herter, particularly by those who are disposed to regard him only as a local figure.

1. He served 10 years in Congress before he became Governor. Not only was he held in unusually high respect on Capitol Hill, but he was ranked as one of the nation's top authorities in the field of foreign affairs.

2. His prestige has increased tremendously during the past three years. He is now in demand as a public speaker throughout the country. If he were thinking in terms of standing for reelection as Governor, he would be accepting invitations in Worcester, Springfield and Fall River, not in New York, Kansas City and Minneapolis.

3. He was one of the original Eisenhower backers. He was one of the Republicans who sat down with Ike in Paris and urged him to run for the Presidency. He worked with the men who steered President Eisenhower to the Presidential nomination in 1952—the men who presumably will again pick the Vice Presidential nominee.

Vice-President Nixon, of course, is a far more formidable figure today than he was in 1952, when he came out of California a secondary leader in that State's delegation, overshadowed by the then Governor Warren and Senator Knowland.

It may be difficult to squeeze Nixon out of the picture. He may be able to put up a far stronger fight than his adversaries now anticipate, and he may be able to convince President Eisenhower that he should not be dropped.

This writer also is not at all convinced that President Eisenhower will run again. We suspect that the wish is father to the thought in the case of those Republicans who appear so certain that Ike will lead them into battle in next fall's campaign wars.

A canvass recently was made of the New England members of Congress to ascertain whether they thought Ike would seek a second term. Without exception, the Republican Congressmen queried predicted that he would stand for reelection, and the Democrats to a man expressed the belief that he would retire from office.

The result of that poll, of course, means nothing. Members of both parties were voicing the thoughts they want to believe.

It is our opinion that President Eisenhower's military background and training will prompt him to retire and that his advisers will have a very difficult time persuading him to do otherwise.

Republican politicians declare that Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren can have his party's Presidential nomination on a silver platter, if Ike decides not to run. But they add the opinion that Warren will turn it down.

A riproaring battle at the Los Angeles convention is a certainty if Mr. Eisenhower removes himself from the picture and Justice Warren refuses to enter it. The GOP politicians decline to make even a long-range forecast as to what is likely to happen, if that develops.

Sen. Kennedy Has a Good Chance of Being A Candidate for Vice President

Senator John F. Kennedy parries any questions about himself as a Vice Presidential prospect. He discounts and minimizes his chances of getting the nod as the running mate with Adlai Stevenson in the event of the latter's nomination.

But Democratic members of Congress report that there is a far stronger likelihood that Kennedy will be the Vice Presidential nominee than Kennedy himself admits, and that despite his very modest appraisal of his possibilities, he obviously has his eye on the second spot on the Democratic national ticket.

Stevenson is now believed to be so far in front in the race for the Democratic Presidential nomination that even some of his fellow Democrats who don't like him are privately conceding that he probably can't be beaten and that he is likely to get the nomination on the first ballot at Chicago.

They also feel that when Stevenson's advisers sit down to make their choice of a Vice Presidential nominee, Kennedy may be a logical selection. This is how they reason it:

Four years ago, Senator John J.

Sparkman of Alabama was picked to strengthen Stevenson in the South. That maneuver failed to hold the South solidly, and Sparkman was no help whatever in the populous States of the Northeast, which a Democratic candidate for President must carry in order to gain election.

The South appears to have swung back to the Democratic banner. But Stevenson has no chance of winning unless he can carry States like Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Kennedy would be a tremendous asset in those and other States, where the feeling of many Democratic and Independent voters toward Stevenson is only lukewarm or even cool.

All the reports indicated that there is a far greater possibility of Kennedy getting the Democratic Vice Presidential nomination than is generally realized.

--- the informed citizen ---

A Weekly Column written and prepared by the Newton League of Women Voters and devoted to the principle that an informed citizen is a good citizen.

An important part of regular business performed by the United Nations involves its trusteeships. Administered by the UN Trusteeship Council, this work carries forward, with certain modifications, a program previously promulgated by the League of Nations.

When the UN was founded in 1945 an outstanding problem was mandated areas established by the League of Nations. In addition, what was to be done with colonies of enemy countries such as Japan? The solution expressed in the UN charter, was based on the same trust concept which the League had employed.

Practically, the system differs from that of the League of Nations. The theory of the Trust concept is certain states will serve as mandatories, providing tutelage to inhabitants to inhabitants of the mandated area, until the areas can stand as independent units.

The UN charter trusteeship system was designed to apply to: (a) territories then under mandate; (b) territories under control of World War II enemies, and (c) territories voluntarily placed under the system by states responsible for their administration.

At the present time there are eleven trusts in existence, covering areas such as the Japanese Pacific Islands trusted to the United States, Somaliland trusted to Australia, etc.

Existing trusteeships include one million square miles of territory with an aggregate population of 20,000,000 people.

The Trusteeship Council is composed of three categories of states: (a) UN members which administer trust territories, (b) permanent members of the Security Council not administering trusts, (c) enough other member states to divide membership equally between administering and non-administering countries.

The Trusteeship Council powers are broader than were those of the Permanent Mandates Commission of the League of Nations. Evidence is as follows: (a) the Council can receive petitions directly from inhabitants, (b) make on-the-spot investigations in trust territories, (c) report to the General Assembly, not the Security Council.

Newtonite of the Week

By LEWIS PAUL SIMONS

MRS. WILLIAM PATTISON

This week the Graphic is proud to salute Mrs. Willis Pattison of 88 Bulloughs Park, Newtonville.

On January 21, Mrs. Pattison will be Chairman of a meeting of the Seven Associated Women's Colleges. These schools are Barnard, Vassar, Bryn Mawr, Smith, Radcliffe, Wellesley, and Mt. Holyoke. The purpose of this meeting is to bring the representatives of these similar schools together to discuss like problems. The women exchange ideas on how the Alumnae can better work with the school. The problems involved in expansion and in keeping the facilities of the school in pace with growth will also be an important topic. Curriculum, too, will be a part of the program.

The importance of these meetings to the individual schools cannot be overemphasized. These Alumnae working together act as an advisory board which is dedicated to promoting the welfare of the colleges.

Mrs. Pattison was accorded the honor of chairing this meeting because of her tireless efforts on behalf of the Boston Wellesley Club. She is a past president of that organization and has served on its Advisory Board for many years.

The Wellesley Club is an interesting organization. To attain and maintain high standards, a college must have a strong, active Alumnae. These Alumnae groups raise money for the school, act as a permanent public relation unit, provide scholarships, and work on projects to enhance the institution.

The Wellesley Club of Boston does many things to help the school. The women provide an $800 scholarship for a deserving girl. They sponsor a Night at Pops, the proceeds of which go to the Student Aid Fund. The Club has sponsored a Ballet which helped the Wellesley College Library Fund.

In Newton there are over 400 Wellesley College graduates, and more than one Newton High girl has benefited from the yearly scholarship.

Mrs. Pattison is a member of the Newton Centre Women's Club. She is also very active in the Junior Mother's Rest Club. This organization works with the Peabody Home for Crippled Children by helping them raise money and by sewing for them.

Mrs. Pattison is currently the Secretary of the Woman's Union of the First Baptist Church of Newton Centre. She is a Deaconess of the Church and is also on the Planning Board.

The Pattisons have lived in Newton since 1919. Mrs. Pattison has shown her regard for Newton not only by her long residence but by her long record of service.

LANGUAGES

Editor, Newton Graphic:

Early in December I attended a "Nuclear Engineering Congress" in Cleveland, Ohio. As usual, the problem of evermore lacking numbers of engineers and scientists was one of the points of discussion: "Russia graduates over 250 PhD's annually in this field; the United States under 60," etc.

Having spent some years in Europe, I was aware of a number of advantages of these foreign schools. No, with three children in Newton Public Schools, I have attempted for some time to put across the thought that broadening the fields of science and foreign languages would improve our system.

Most important, in Newton I believe, is eliminating the lack of possibilities in languages, although adding the possibility of an extra year of physics would help a lot!

I have discussed this with Teachers, Guidance Teachers, Principals, and members of the School Board, but only saw a smile and heard that "Newton parents won't stand for it."

Now, I should like to report that Cleveland parents do stand for it! In the past, a child in Cleveland's public school system could take a foreign language for 4 years in high and for 2 years prior in junior high school. Now this has been extended to a total of 8 (eight) years, thus enabling the Cleveland child, if it wishes, to start a foreign language at the age of 10 and possibly acquaint himself with two foreign languages—as is the standard with European "middle schools."

The statement that Newton parents will not stand for a similar curriculum appears questionable, particularly in view of the fact that over 90 per cent of Newtonians wish to see their youngsters enter college!

There is not only a lack of thorough training but also lack of choice of languages in our system. The vast majority of pupils do not wish to start two foreign languages within their high school period. As their selection of language must be made in the 9th grade, we might as well realize that for the Newton youngsters the system offers two languages only—namely those available in junior high. Surely Latin is required for the future linguist and student of divinity, but German, or even Russian, would be more important to the future physicist, chemist, biologist, mathematician or engineer. For example again I should like to note the "Nuclear Congress." Members of various professional societies were led through the Goodrich Company's Research Lab which was equipped with a complete German library of chemistry.

Let us realize that French is required for the future employee of the State Department, but that Spanish is more important for our trade with South America, for exporters, all kinds of specialists and professional men, and for medical students and engineers who are often sent to our southern neighbors.

Would it seem feasible at this time to make available in junior high the four choices of Latin, Spanish, French, and German? Or would it be time to allow Newton pupils to start their foreign language at the age of 12, and thus give them the opportunities open for others for some years? It would be gratifying if school board members and administrators spent some time discussing curriculum so as to maintain the high standard Newton schools have enjoyed for long! The call is for more languages, more science and math!

I, for one, am sure that Newton parents will gladly send their youngsters to less attractive classrooms, to school buildings with fewer tiled corridors, etc. if more profound knowledge and broader education are made available. The vital importance of improvement of the educational system on a national basis has come to the foreground. Let us apply this to our town!

N-W Hospital Junior Aid

How many times have we seen or heard this quotation? How many of us have given much thought to it? Probably most of us have seen and heard it many times but have given little or no thought as to what are the causes of mental illness and what we can do about it. On Thursday, January 19, 1956, at Allen Riddle Hall, the Newton-Wellesley Junior Aid will present a "Symposium of Mental Health," at 8 p.m.

An actual case history, with the patient as a special guest, will come to life. You will become acquainted with the procedure of admitting a patient, the conferences held regarding the diagnosis and prognosis, treatments given and finally the part each member of the panel plays in the role of rehabilitating this patient so that he may again become a socially accepted member of society. We cannot stress too highly the importance of this great work. Society, in general, has been prone to ignore the term "mental illness" without trying to see just what can be done in rehabilitating this patient. Now is your chance to see and hear just how this program is accomplished. The panel members will include: Miss Ogilbee, supervisor of social service work and moderator; Joy Graham, M.D., staff psychiatrist; Mrs. Randolph Rice, volunteer; Miss Mary Finn, R.N. and Mr. Francis Macomber, recreational therapist and director of psychiatric drama, all of the staff of the Boston Psychopathic Hospital, 74 Fenwood road, Boston, Mass. Members and guests are cordially invited to attend this meeting. Prior to the program there will be a board of directors meeting with Mrs. J. Marshall Leydon, presiding. Mrs. Richard McElowney, of Newton Highlands, program chairman, will introduce the members of the panel.

Giant Imperial Quart Launched By Narragansett Brewing Co.

Over the weekend the Narragansett Brewing Company, one of America's great breweries, announced the introduction in Massachusetts of the sensational new Narragansett Giant Imperial Quart bottle.

This means that of the four successful new packages introduced in the entire beer industry in recent years, Narragansett accounts for two of them—King-Size which has been phenomenally successful, and now the Narragansett Giant Imperial Quart which, first introduced in the State of Maine early in 1955, has proved equally successful.

The Narragansett Giant Imperial Quart contains 38.43 ounces compared with the 32 ounces in the regular quart. Therefore, the consumer enjoys 6.43 ounces more beer—20 percent more of the best beer Narragansett ever brewed—for his money.

The Giant Imperial Quart was launched at a giant sales meeting in the ballroom of the Sheraton Plaza Hotel with more than 200 participating brewing executives, distributors and distributor salesmen.

To introduce the Giant Imperial Quart, Narragansett is launching one of the biggest advertising programs in its history, using intensive campaigns in all media—newspapers, radio, television and posters—plus a great array of colorful, hard-hitting point-of-sale displays for dealer use.

Arts and Crafts Day to Be Held January 20

The Jack and Jill Nursery School holds its first "Arts and Crafts Day" Friday, January 20, according to an announcement by Mrs. Abigail Arcand, director of the school. Mrs. Arcand explained that her pre-kindergartens will display their finger-painting, clay work, paper cutting, and water colors to their parents, as examples of the type of activity encouraged. The Jack and Jill School, at 497 Boylston street, holds classes either in the morning or afternoon, and children can be enrolled for one to five days a week, with or without transportation. Mrs. Arcand reports that she can accept registration for a few more children. Further information can be obtained by phoning her at LA 7-5652.

Bigelow Junior High School PTA

Edward T. Wilcox, Associate Director of the Bureau of Study Counsel at Harvard University will be the speaker at a meeting of the Bigelow Junior High School Parent Teachers' Association, this evening. The meeting will be held in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. The subject under discussion will be "College Soon—Are They Prepared?" After Mr. Wilcox speaks, there will be questions and discussions from the floor. As this community has established high standards for college preparation, it is the constantly recurring obligation of parents and teachers to work together in maintaining such standards. Discussions such as this are planned for this very purpose. Increased enrollment in the public schools is encouraging P.T.A. groups to plan consistently for the future, and Mr. Wilcox's subject and others like it enhance the opportunities for public awareness and planning. Questions such as "How good must my child's grades be?" "How much outside activity should he have?" "Can he compete with candidates from private schools?" and "Will he do well when he gets to college?" will be covered by Mr. Wilcox. Refreshments are to be served after the meeting.

Former Governor Dever to Address Democratic Meeting

Registration Kick-off Dinner at Claflin School February 7

The Executive Committee of the Newton Democratic Club today announced that former Governor Paul A. Dever would be the principal speaker at the registration kick-off meeting on Tuesday, February 7th at 8:30 p.m. at the Claflin School in West Newton.

PAUL A. DEVER

In making the announcement Robert S. Lesberg, President of the organization, stated that "the fact that former Governor Dever has graciously consented to address the Newton Democratic Club indicates to me that the Democratic party in Newton has finally come of age. In discussing the forthcoming meeting with the former Governor, he assured me that the City of Newton is definitely being considered as an important Democratic focal point in the Fall elections. I feel very strongly that the vitality of the Democratic party in Newton, as evidenced by the last election, together with the strong support given to the newly formed Newton Democratic Club, has taken the city of Newton out of the ranks of the so-called safe Republican cities."

MR. LESBERG also announced that former Governor Dever would be introduced at the February 7 meeting by Jackson J. Holtz, Democratic candidate for Congress from this district in the 1954 election; also on the platform will be Alderman Leo Cannon, Democratic candidate for the Senate in 1954.

Immediately following the address by former Governor Dever, the members and friends of the Newton Democratic Club at tending the meeting will be invited to an informal social hour, at which time they will have the opportunity to meet with the distinguished platform guests.

Seek to Eliminate Cunniff's Curve

The Board of Directors of the Oak Hill District Improvement Association by a unanimous vote at a recent meeting, has filed with the Board of Aldermen a petition for the improvement of Brookline street in the area known as Cunniff's Curve, by eliminating the curve and straightening the street.

THE HAZARD created by this S-shaped curve on the narrowest part of Brookline street, has become critically dangerous in recent years. The greatly increased population in the district has caused Brookline street to become heavily traveled. Moreover, the location of the Spaulding School is such that about seventy children walk around the curve to and from the school. There have been many accidents and to rely on safe thoroughfares, such reliance is not warranted at Cunniff's Curve under the present circumstances, the association contends. Lives and property of persons using this public way, most of whom are residents of Oak Hill, are now seriously jeopardized by a situation for which the City must assume responsibility in the opinion of the association.

THE OAK HILL District Improvement Association has several times in the past suggested the elimination of Cunniff's Curve as a desirable public improvement, but since the erection of the Spaulding School, this public improvement has become a necessity.

In its petition the association states: "We are joined in this conclusion not only by the Spaulding School PTA and the Oak Hill Park Association, whose members are vitally affected, but also by Mayor Howard Whitmore Jr., who in his inaugural address this year stated:

"Immediate attention must be given to widening and improving some of our city streets which only recently carried little traffic but are now thoroughfares and as such are dangerous for vehicles and pedestrians, especially school children. Perhaps the most conspicuous example is Brookline street in the area known as Cunniff's Curve which should be eliminated."

The petition is signed by Franklin N. Flaschner, president of the association.

Rev. Murray Submits His Resignation

Last Sunday morning the Reverend Dr. George L. Murray, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church in Newton, presented his resignation to the congregation. The announcement was quite unexpected and produced audible expressions of emotion and deep regret. Dr. Murray has been pastor of this congregation for twenty years and much loved by his people.

It was due to his initiative and leadership that the congregation moved in 1946 from its old property in the south end of Boston and acquired its present beautiful and commodious place of worship at Newton Corner.

DR. MURRAY is a native of Scotland who came to Canada after having served in the first World War with the famous Seaforth Highlanders. His former education for the ministry

POLITICAL OVERTONES

Republicans Bound to Have a Real Fight at Pre-Primary State Convention if Gov. Herter Does Not Run Again

Ever since their bitter experience in the 1950 primary, which set the stage for a Republican collapse in the subsequent election, GOP leaders have gone to great lengths to avoid damaging fights within their own party.

There is some doubt, however, that they will be able to prevent one or more knock-down fights at their pre-primary State convention to be held in Worcester June 16—if Governor Herter is not a candidate for renomination and reelection.

Mr. Herter, of course, has made no statement concerning his plans for the future, and a surprisingly large number of persons at the recent big GOP dinner in Commonwealth Armory expressed the conviction that he will be a candidate for reelection.

All the signs indicate, however, that Governor Herter will not stand for a third term and that he will either be a member of the Republican national ticket next fall or will be preparing to retire to private life next January.

If that proves to be the case, then Republican State Committee Chairman Elmer C. Nelson may be over optimistic in planning a one-day GOP pre-primary State convention at Worcester on June 16.

EXCHANGE GROUPS WILL VISIT WISCONSIN AND CONNECTICUT

Two Similar Groups In These Areas To Visit Here In March

Two groups of Newton High School students are preparing for the biggest event of their year. They are the students who will travel to distant American communities as members of the school-and-school exchange. Considered by many educators to be unexcelled as a learning experience, the exchange is much more than a recreational outing.

Just now, for example, the exchangers are going through an extensive preparation for the event. They must be more than superficial tourists so they are scouring libraries for books on the culture, economics, and geography of the areas they will visit. They are attending special lectures and conferences to make them shrewd observers of the things they will see. They are getting to know one another better so that the group, as well as its individuals, will be prepared for life and work away from home.

One of the many activities which help each student become a more mature individual and a more cooperative citizen is the effort to raise expense money. Working together, exchangers sold Christmas decorations. At present they are preparing to collect scrap paper on January 28 and February 4.

Newton students will visit a small modern school in Litchfield, Connecticut. It is the Wamogo Regional High School, serving three communities in a farming countryside quite different from Newton. Newton students who will go there are:

Hope to Open Nonantum Library in Fall

According to Thomas Weston, president of the library trustees, the Nonantum Branch of the Freg Library is scheduled to open next fall.

W. Cornell Appleton, architect for the addition to the main library, is also architect for the new branch, Mr. Weston said. The branch is financed by $100,000 bond issue, and is to be built on the site of an old fire station.

The new branch in the Oak Hill Park shopping center has received national recognition in the December issue of the Library Journal, Mrs. Weston announced.

With the current Newton March of Dimes campaign falling short of expectations, the Newton March of Dimes Committee today announced that a mammoth city-wide canvass for funds will be staged from 2 to 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Frederick O. Dutton of 168 Allerton road, Newton Highlands, has been chosen to head up the 1956 Mothers' March on Polio in Newton. She has already lined up 1,000 volunteers for the two-hour drive. More volunteers are still needed.

After a fast start earlier in the month, coin card returns slowed down considerably earlier this week, it was announced by Mrs. Alvah O. Ring of 2075 Beacon extension, Newton Lower Falls, coin and card chairman. While the average donation in the coin cards has been higher than was the case a year ago, the number of returns is far below expectations.

TOTAL RECEIPTS as of this morning, according to fund Treasurer John Balkus of the Newton National Bank, have only reached $9900—a long way short of the $28,000 raised a year ago, and nowhere near enough to cover the $58,000 in hospital and medical bills that the Newton Committee wants to pay for Newton polio patients during 1956.

Fund Co-Chairmen John A. Finnerty of Newton Centre and Frederick A. Hunt of Waban today renewed their plea for more donations to the current polio campaign. Pointing out that 117 Newton residents were stricken with polio during 1955, the co-chairmen noted that "we must have your financial aid if we are to carry on our rehabilitation programs among these patients—boys and girls, men and women—of all ages and from all the villages of Newton. Polio might strike your family in '56. If it does, we want to be ready to help. But we must have your donation to support our program. Please give generously—even if you have given before. The need is twice as great this year as ever before in Newton."

MRS. DUTTON, the Mothers' March chairman, is a graduate of Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Lynchburg, Va. A former Girl Scout professional, she is a member at large on the Newton Girl Scout Council, and is in charge of all service projects for Girl Scouts in Newton. Active also in church affairs, she has three married children and three other children attending Newton public schools.

Forming a solid core of nearly 100 Mothers' March volunteers are members of families that have been stricken by polio during 1955 and in

Hold Heart Fund Kickoff To Prepare For Drive

Newton's Heart Sunday Neighbors, district chairmen and captains of the volunteers who will visit their friends on Heart Sunday, February 26, for the 1956 Heart Fund contributions, will be given a kickoff party Feb. 3 by Edwin L. Beckwith, general chairman, at his home, 15 Dartmouth street.

THE ANNUAL campaign aids the battle against heart disease, the state and nation's first health problem. It is sponsored by the Massachusetts Heart Association, which supports this work with research, professional and public education, and community services.

Among those attending will be area chairmen Mrs. William F. White, Miss Margaret Magoley, Alexander Cochrane, Mrs. Mark F. Lesses, Mrs. Walter Webbing, Mrs. Guy Munroe, Mrs.

George Michaels, Mrs. Samuel Nesson, Mrs. Harold Hurst, Henry Harwood, Mrs. Robert B. Hull, Giles Mosher, Miss Mary Sheridan, F. Gorham Brigham, Mrs. Mary Chiampa and Edward J. Theriault.

ALSO Mrs. B. Alden Thresher, special gifts chairman, and her committee of eight: Roland F. Gammons, clubs and organizations chairman; John Balkus, treasurer, and Mrs. Benjamin Shattuck, publicity chairman.

Heart Sunday in the Newtons will bring an intensive, house-to-house solicitation to collect funds to conquer heart disease. Every neighborhood will be visited by Newton's Heart Neighbors to make sure that everybody has an opportunity to participate in the fight against heart ailments.

Taxpayers' Ask Further Study of Finances

Further study leading to action with respect to more centralized financial administration, teachers compensation and pensions is outlined and urged in the January bulletin of the Newton Taxpayers' Association.

"IN VIEW of the unsettled condition in the controller's office the time is most opportune to undertake a complete review of the overall position of the various financial offices in the city, with the aim of achieving better financial integration and controls," stated Lorenz F. Muther, Jr., the Association's Executive Director.

"In the area of teacher compensation, we are examining it with special emphasis on the possibility of differentiation by the supply of good teachers in the various branches of learning and by individual merit rating," Muther continued. "The main point of both these approaches is that the cost of public education has reached the place where broad and blanket standard expense increases should not just be accepted in the fair name of better education or simpler administration. Rather, selective applications of well grounded and well analyzed criteria in accordance with actual conditions should be worked out, so that our tax dollars will be best applied where

License For Sun. Bowling to Be Opposed

Granting of a license for Sunday bowling will be opposed at the public hearing to be held by the Board of Aldermen February 6.

Over one hundred voting clergymen and lay delegates to the Newton Council of Churches have gone on record as opposed to the granting of a Sunday license for bowling and to any further secularization of Sunday. The Council, which comprises 24 churches, will be represented at the public hearing by its president, Arthur T. Gregorian, and its executive secretary, Rev. Sydney Adams, pastor of the Centenary Methodist Church.

GOP Floor Leader to Address Youth Rally

The Honorable Charles Gibbons, Republican Floor Leader of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, will give the keynote address this Sunday, Jan. 29, at a Youth Rally of the Suffolk-West Association of the Massachusetts Congregational Conference. The Rally will be held at Second Congregational Church in West Newton from 5:00 to 8:30 p.m. Mr. Gibbons, a resident of Stoneham, has served in the Massachusetts House since 1943. Acting as Floor Leader since 1949, he served as Speaker of the House in 1953-1954.

The theme for the Rally will be "Four Dimensional Citizenship for Youth." The four dimensions are conceived as the local, state, national, and international levels of citizenship. Other featured speakers will be Mayor Howard Whitmore of Newton, Dr. Dwight Strong, executive secretary of the New England Watch and Ward Society, State Senator Richard Lee, State Representative William Morton, Dr. Charles Pelletier, head of the Newton High School history department, and Mr. Lawrence Anderson. The Speakers will discuss problems facing youth today and possible contributions youth can offer.

SUFFOLK-WEST Association includes the Congregational churches in Belmont, Brighton, Boston, Brookline, Lincoln, Needham, the Newtons, Waltham, Watertown, and Wellesley. Rev. Arthur Melanson of Wellesley is the advisor of the youth division. The officers of this division are: Richard Milner, Newton Centre, President; Joyce Rice, Wellesley, Vice-President; Margaret Hobbs, Newton Highlands, Secretary; Frank Brainard, Waltham, Treasurer; John Gallagher, Newtonville, Fellowship Commission Chairman; Margaret Milligan, Boston, Faith Commission Chairman; Richard McKnight, Newton, Action Commission Chairman.

THIS RALLY is one of two, which, along with a week-end Officers' Retreat, constitute the year's program of the association. The second rally will be held on May 8 at First Church in Waltham.

The public is invited to the 6:00 p.m. worship service, at which Mr. Gibbons will speak.

Rededication Service Of Methodist Church Sunday

Bishop John Wesley Lord, resident bishop of the Boston area of the Methodist Church, will be the preacher at the rededication service at the Newton Centre Methodist Church which will take place this Sunday at 10:30 a.m.

A new stained-glass window, replacing the one that was blown out in "Hurricane Carol" August 31, 1954, is one of the many improvements made in the church building recently.

The window depicts a figure of Christ giving the Great Commission to his disciples "To go out into all the world and preach the Gospel to all nations." The window is in memory of the Rev. William Butler, pioneer Methodist missionary Cardinali, Nancy; Clifton, Rochelle; Goodale, Grace; Hussey, Joan; Lamlet, Jacqueline; Stackpole, Deborah; Stern, Brenda; Albano, Edith; Bentley, Marcia; Cushing, Mary Ann; Huberman, Marcia; Jacobson, Esther; Marchant, Lois; Solomon, Elaine; Swartz, Rosalie.

Argue, Edward, Cohen, Stephen; Gorn, Robert; Harding, Michael; Hoeh, David; Miller, Stephen J.; Howlings, Robert; Williams, R.; Bachner, F.; Davidson, Edward; Di Bona, Lawrence; Preston, William; Ryder, David; Schneider, Philip; Stam, James. Faculty advisors for the Wisconsin group are Mr. Carl Birmingham and Miss Marion Drewes.

The other group will go to Plymouth High School in Plymouth, Wisconsin. These students will see the heart of a dairy country not at all like industrial New England. To Wisconsin from Newton go:

Abrams, Susan; Dahl, Jane; Farina, Alfreda; Kane, Margaret; Kavanaugh, Lorraine; Leary, Christina; Linn, Judith; Themo, Elaine; Bowers, Barbara; Chase, Joan; Derr, Nancy; Gagin, Lucille; Geiger, Sara; Milender, Nancy; Rogers, Gail; Berman, Merrill; Broad, Edward; Der Hohanesian, Armen; Giordano, Fred; Harlan, George S.; Horvitz, David; Lipson, Larry; Quinn, Donald R.; Crosby, David; Dangel, James; Funkenstein, Harris; Kellaway, Roger; Macrillo, Robert; Marsh, Christopher; Wilson, Donald.

Faculty advisors for the Wisconsin group are Mr. Carl Birmingham and Miss Marion Drewes.

Each Newton student lives with a family while he is away and when the visit is returned the high schooler from that family will visit him in Newton. In previous years Newton students have visited and in turn entertained students from Michigan, Maryland, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Maine, Canada, Florida, Idaho, Ohio, Colorado and Delaware. It means that Newton has a growing number of young citizens and whole families who can speak with authority of peoples and places outside their own neighborhoods.

This year the visitors from Wisconsin will be in Newton from March 18 until March 28. The Connecticut group will visit here in the same month. Newton students will leave for Wisconsin April 13, and return on April 24. The group going to Connecticut and New York City will leave April 14 and return April 24.

This is the eighth successive year in which Newton's traveling classrooms have gone looking for an education. Including this year, Newton will have exchanged with fourteen different high schools.

Newton High School has pioneered in this see-for-yourself education, but more schools participate each year. Over sixty public high schools all over the country had exchange programs last year. Perhaps the day will come when the democratic growth provided by interstate visiting will be enjoyed by every community.

Other LRY participants in the order of service include David Ellis, Call to Worship, Invocation and Lord's Prayer; Miss Nancy Carroll, announcements; Miss Cheryl Kuebler, Biblical Lesson; Thomas Salzer, modern lesson; Miss Deborah Stackpole, prayer; Roger Adler, benediction.

John Silver will be head usher, assisted by Michael Coulter, John Deming and Roger Adler. Members of the Jaynes League who are regular members of the senior choir include the Misses Bessa Whitmore, Nancy Carroll and Deborah Stackpole, and Johnathan Fisher.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Stackpole, sponsors of the Jaynes League, and the Rev. John Oden Fisher, minister, have assisted the young people in the preparation of this annual Youth Sunday service. Mrs. Dorothy S. Fisher, organist, and the senior choir, will assist in the order of service.

$25,000 Donation To Newton Col. Of Sacred Heart

Mother Eleanor S. Kenney, R.S.C.J., president of Newton College of the Sacred Heart, 885 Centre street, Newton has announced the reception of a gift of $25,000 from Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, wife of the former Ambassador to the Court of St. James, Joseph P. Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy's donation will be added to a fund for the erection of a chapel on the campus of this ten-year-old institution.

Taxpayers-

they will really do the job we want them to do most effectively."

"AS FOR PENSIONS the cost to taxpayers has tripled in the past ten years in Newton and in the state at large," stated Muther. "The current pension arrangements are full of inequities and special privileges. The system has 'just growned,' largely due to haphazard additions by the legislature in response to various unrelated special pressures. At present, employee contributions account for only about 10 cents of each dollar of pension paid. A complete overhaul is overdue, and in the meantime we are urging immediate support of two attempts to cut down excessive pensions based on the 'heart' law and the situation where an ostensibly disabled pensioner is hale and hearty enough to earn more in other employment than he would if he were still working at the city job he left because of his disability."

POLIO STRUCK SIX MEMBERS OF THIS FAMILY DURING THE RECENT NEWTON EPIDEMIC—Mrs. Domenic Dougherty of 31 Newell road, Auburndale, second left in front, has been named honorary chairman of the Newton Mother's March on Polio, scheduled for 2-4 o'clock Sunday. Mrs. Dougherty, though awaiting twins, carried on bravely when six of her children were struck by non-paralytic polio in September; she has aided them since in strengthening damaged leg muscles through exercises. Shown are, left to right, front, Mrs. Frederick O. Dutton, Mother's March chairman; Mrs. Dougherty, Eileen, 9; Patrick, 10, and Mary, 5; rear, left to right, Mrs. Alvah O. Ring, coin card chairman; Joseph, 2; Joan, 13; Domenic, 12; Michael, 17 months; Mr. Dougherty, an industrial engineer; Dennis, 6, and Timothy, 8. Though the family skipped its summer vacation and stayed away from beaches and lakes to avoid the polio virus, young Domenic was taken to the Newton-Wellesley Hospital with a diagnosed case of polio on Sept. 8. Within 11 days, Dennis, Timothy, Patrick, Eileen and Mary had also been hit by polio. (Photo by R. P. Jennett) other recent years. Aware of the need for funds to help polio patients today living in iron lungs or struggling with exercises to bring life back to damaged muscles, these people volunteered to help the neighborhood chairman supervising the fund-raising "march" in the various villages.

WITH THE DRIVE now running several thousand dollars behind a year ago (despite the fact that Special Gifts, at $3000, are double those of a year ago), officials ask that you make as large a donation as you possibly can during the coming "wrap-up week" of the 1956 drive. If you will not be home when the polio volunteer calls at your house between 2 and 4 Sunday afternoon, please mail your coin card in. (Or if you have misplaced your coin card, slip your donation in an envelope and address it to Mr. John Balkus, Treasurer, Newton National Bank, Newton, Mass.) And if you have mailed a donation in already, drive officials ask that you look favorably upon the request by the polio volunteers for another donation. The need is twice as great in Newton this year — so give twice.

When a tightwad parts with the inflated dollar of today it only costs him thirty cents worth of anguish.

High School Activities

FLAPPERS RETURN

Time was turned back for one night as the second Tigerama presented a program of the gay flapper days of the 1920's for which many students came in raccoon-skin coats, blazers, straw hats, shapeless above-the-knee dresses, and rolled stockings. Held Friday, January 6, in the school gym, the Tigerama was by all means successful. In addition to drawing a large attendance, the well planned program helped everyone have a good time. The second Tigerama was challenged with running a large affair at which more than a thousand were present and not letting anyone feel lost in the crowd.

MUSIC AND DANCING

The program began at 8:00 with the bunny hop and social dancing. The first entertainment period featured a duo piano routine with Peter Cobb and John Fisher. During the act John sang "Has Anybody Seen My Gal?" and then gave Peter, who was still playing the piano, a shave. One of the funniest events at the second Tigerama was an all boy troupe's interpretation of a flower ballet. There was also a competition in which girls competed for prizes for the best costume of the 20's. Gail Spence was awarded the first prize. Later some of the stars of the teams which play during the winter athletic competition spoke briefly. Lynn Alpert sang some popular songs, as did a quartet, the New Tones. The program ended at 11:30 with a "tigeramble" - a dance adapted for the Tigerama programs.

SUCCESS OF PROGRAM

Much of the success of the Tigerama was due to the excellent leadership of Joan Cannon, the Student Chairman of the P.T.S.A. and Chairman of the Tigerama. Not only did she work hard in organizing the programs, but also she participated in the entertainment.

YOUNG SING FOR OLD

The Junior Red Cross Council of Newton High and some members of A Capella choir joined forces three days before the Xmas holidays and went to the Swedish Home for the Aged in Newton. These spirited visitors brought with them cookies, carols, and a carload of Christmas spirit. The choir offered renditions of all the Christmas and Chanukah songs and then went on to songs of all kinds. The audience was thrilled with the whole program.

PUPILS TO RETURN

By popular demand, the choir is going to visit the home again several times in the near future. They are now practicing more songs for the older people. It is indeed a good sight to see a group of young people giving their time and energy to help the community.

SCHOOL EXCHANGE FACTS

In preparation for the school exchange, Newton High has a workshop devoted to the study of community life and training for leadership in a constantly changing society. Pupils who take this subject receive no credit toward graduation. Selection is made by a group of the faculty who evaluates all applications. The goal of this committee in final choosing is to select a good cross-section of the city containing a group of students who will best profit by this experience. The number of pupils is limited. For each exchange, an equal number of boys and girls are carefully selected from the junior and senior classes. There are also Faculty leaders, a Faculty Advisory Committee, and a Parents' Committee. The Newton Chapter of the American Junior Red Cross is also in close cooperation with the exchange.

PURPOSES OF THE EXCHANGE

Some of the more important purposes of the exchange are to extend the classroom beyond the school, to combine school and community programs, to recognize qualities of leadership and to give the pupils ample opportunity to apply in community life what they have learned at home as well as in school.

COST OF TRIP

The cost of the trip depends on the length and the number of students involved. Pupils earn money through individual enterprises such as baby sitting, gardening with their parents' help, in such activities as paper drives and rummage sales. When the time of departure comes the students pool the money needed for their transportation and sightseeing, and for group entertainment of the visiting school. The exchange group meets regularly during the school year, on afternoons and during school hours. Some activities are planned for week ends and school holidays.

NO PREJUDICE IN EXCHANGE

Finally, the school exchange broadens each students' horizons to the extent that he studies difference in social backgrounds and economy. There is no room for any prejudice in the school exchange, only good will.

JUNIOR DANCE

It came and went on a cloud of music, fun, and all the gaiety that goes along with a dance. Yes, it was out of this world, it was heaven, it was the Junior Dance, 57th Heaven. The dance was crowded with all the devils and angels that could fit on our cloud as it floated through the skies. The news of the dance was so hot that it over-heated the stoves down below and all the devils ran to that cool place, 57th Heaven. After the devils arrived with their angels, they held on to their spear or halo and drifted along the Milky Way to the music of Jack Winters' Band.

If the music did not send you floating into outer space, then the atmosphere must have. With the Greek gods and their messenger Mercury that, according to Greek mythology, rule the heavens, you really must have felt as if you were flying back through the ages to the days of ancient Greece. The modern music was the only thing that associated all the devils, angels, gods, and goddesses with the mortals that still were around during that heavenly dance, 57th heaven.

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT

During Christmas vacation John Kivlehan, Sue Shulkin, and Judy Narefs went to Florida. Sandy Needle, Dave Kirby, Judy Lilienfeld, Steve Miller, Judy Neilson, Lee Pa-Pa, Ellen Maslow, and Andy Morrison were in New York. Those skiing were Car Perlmutter, Dick Herman, Merrill Berman, Larry and Kenny Sherman, and George Kirk. Kenny Keyes was in Bermuda. Elaine Bikash was in Washington D.C.

Political Overtones

Sometime within the next two or three months, Mr. Herter will undoubtedly issue a statement announcing whether or not he will be a candidate for renomination at that convention.

He probably will withhold his pronouncement until after President Eisenhower makes known his decision as to what his role will be in next autumn's campaign.

The same circumstances, which are causing Republican U. S. Senate Leader William F. Knowland to mark time uneasily while he waits for Ike to make up his mind, prevail to a lesser degree in the case of Governor Herter.

A fairly sizeable number of Republicans will bid for the openings that will be created on the GOP State ticket, if Mr. Herter is not a candidate for reelection, but will remain on the sidelines, if he is running for reelection.

Those candidates understandably are anxious to know what the picture is to be so that they can begin campaigning as early as possible, if they are to be involved in contests at the convention in Worcester on June 16.

At this stage the only safe prediction that can be made concerning the GOP pre-primary State convention is that Attorney General George Fingold will be renominated for a third term.

Governor Herter, of course, would be given renomination by acclamation, if he decides to stand for reelection, and Lieutenant Governor Sumner G. Whittier would be his running mate for a third term. In that turn of events the only contention conflicts would be for the endorsements for State Treasurer, State Auditor and Secretary of State, three offices which the Democrats usually manage to hold.

But stiff fights for the endorsements for both Governor and Lieutenant Governor probably will develop, if Herter is to be a bystander at the Worcester conclave.

Lieutenant Governor Whittier and Republican House Leader Charles Gibbons undoubtedly would be two top adversaries for the gubernatorial endorsement, and each would have powerful backing. Whittier has done more campaigning throughout the State, but Gibbons would have strong support from his fellow GOP House members who would control a high percentage of the votes at the conclave.

Congressman Laurence Curtis is considered a gubernatorial prospect by some observers. That undoubtedly stems from the fact that Curtis was an announced candidate for Governor in 1952 but hastily shifted his plans and stepped into the congressional field, after Christian A. Herter was persuaded to run for the Governorship.

Friends of Curtis, however, declare that he probably will remain out of the gubernatorial contention and concentrate on his own fight for reelection in a district now regarded as extremely tight.

Curtis had a close race in 1954. Democratic leaders are out to upset him next fall if they can possibly do it. They see an opportunity to capture the seat in Congress he holds, and they are planning a big drive for the enrollment of voters in his district.

For that reason Curtis is expected to remain out of the convention contest for Governor and conserve his strength for the bitter battle he faces.

Former Presidential Assistant Robert Cutler is mentioned from time to time as a possible candidate for Governor, particularly if President Eisenhower decides to run, but those reports are not taken seriously, and the likelihood is that the fight for the top place on the Republican State ticket will come down to a two-man race between Lieutenant Governor Whittier and Republican House Leader Gibbons—if Governor Herter is out of the picture.

Governor's Councillor Charles J. Gabriel of Hingham and State Senator Leslie B. Cutler of Needham have declared themselves contenders for the nomination for Lieutenant Governor—if Herter is to step out and Whittier is to move up the Republican escalator.

While they are the only two announced GOP candidates for Lieutenant Governor at this time, they undoubtedly will have further competition, if a wide-open fight is to develop for the nomination for that office.

Colorful State Senator John Adams of

Andover appears to have the pole in the race for the Republican endorsement for State Treasurer. One of the more liberal members of the upper legislative chamber, Adams would have considerable Democratic and Independent support, if he were nominated, and would draw substantial strength to the GOP ticket.

A question mark in the Republican picture is Senate President Richard I. Furbush, one of the most popular figures on Beacon Hill. Furbush presumably will be given a nomination for one of the Statewide offices, if he desires it.

Furbush is a victim of one of the peculiar traditions which develop in politics. He is serving his third term as president of the Massachusetts Senate, runs that body's proceedings with a skilled and experienced hand and unquestionably is a real asset.

An unwritten law says that no man shall serve more than two terms as head of the State Senate. Furbush already has broken that custom by winning three elections as the presiding officer. He is now planning to retire from the body at the end of this year, although Republican leaders might intervene and persuade him not to do so, particularly since there is a good possibility that the seat he holds might be won by a Democrat, if he relinquishes it.

No Clue in Ike's Speech He Will Run

Every Republican politician questioned is certain that President Eisenhower will run for reelection next fall. Every Democratic politician quizzed is just as certain that he will not.

This observer, after watching the President on last week's big Republican television extravaganza, has the feeling that he either has not made up his mind or that he is disposed to retire from office when he finishes his present term.

It is unfortunate that the same television show, which was brought over a closed channel to 2500 Republicans in the Commonwealth Armory, was not visible to the general public on their television sets at home. It was a political spectacular well worth seeing.

The Boston dinner was not an especially notable one, except for the size of the crowd it attracted. The speech of the main orator of the evening, Deputy Secretary of Defense Reuben Robertson, was as dry as summer dust, and many of his listeners were struggling to keep awake before he droned through the full 30 minutes of it.

But the television program at the end, which brought in diners in 10 other cities, including the one in Washington President Eisenhower was attending, more than atoned for the wearisome talk of Mr. Robertson.

The fact that the Boston audience watched on television its own rally created the subsequent impression that they also were sitting in on the ones in Chicago, Houston, Los Angeles, New York and other cities across the country.

President Eisenhower spoke after the television cameras switched to 10 different cities, in each of which a big gathering of Republicans gave their leader a roaring salute.

But the truth is that he didn't sound like a man who had much thought of standing for another term. He was obviously moved by the tremendous tributes he had witnessed on the third anniversary of his inauguration as President of the United States, as almost any human being would be.

His speech, however, obviously disappointed the big throng that sat in the spacious armory, listening attentively to his remarks. They had waited eagerly for some hint that he would be a candidate next autumn, but none came.

That the reaction in the great crowd was one of disappointment was apparent the moment the television show ended and the lights were turned on. But by the next day the Republican politicians had convinced themselves all over again that Ike will be leading them into battle next fall. Nothing that he said Friday night gave any cause for that belief.

If the GOP leaders are building up their party for a huge letdown, it is not because Mr. Eisenhower has not voiced enough words that should cushion the shock, if his eventual decision is that he will not run.

Chapter 4 -- British Sector

STUTTGART, GERMANY

Most all of the houses here are made of cinder block. It is most durable. The house where we are living now is made from cinder block, and I've looked it over rather carefully. Apparently some time during the war there was some shooting at it, and there are a few pock marks about the outside wall that indicate it was hit by 30 and 50 caliber shells, but beyond a little hollow in the wall about two inches deep, there is little damage. No cracks, — nothing. My feeling is that there is no more durable way of building. I've seen houses built this way that are still standing after hundreds of years. One thing cinder block does not withstand, and that's bombs. Guess they haven't found anything to withstand them, yet.

On the weekend of the 27th we decided to go to the little town of Lage, which is about 350 miles north of Stuttgart in the British Zone. In this town lives a German teacher, Alfred Lingen, whom I have corresponded with during the last year. It was a most eventful trip.

We decided not to leave until Saturday morning, and did so at about 7 o'clock. We managed to get out to the autobahn with getting completely lost this time. We did face considerable traffic trouble on the small road to the autobahn. It was the bad driving habits and manners of the German truck drivers again. They get in the middle of the road and that's where they stay! We came to a spot where there had been a minor mishap just a few minutes before. Two big German trailer trucks sideswiped each other and threw each other into the opposite ditches. Here in Germany there are very often two complete trailers attached to the regular semi and tractor. Looks like a train coming down the road. Buses are often the same way, — pulling an independent four-wheeled trailer full of people.

During this trip we knew that we would be short of gas, so we filled up our extra can. We used our last gas coupons, and were on our way. On the way up the autobahn I turned off on a wrong street, and got a ticket for it. There are special driving signs over here and I know them, and have a driver's license to prove it. However, at the point where we turned, there were no one way signs, closed to traffic signs, etc. We arrived in Lage in Lippe at about three in the afternoon. As we drove into the little town, we stopped outside of a little store, and I went into the store to ask about the way to Alfred's home. I found the street, and came out, to be met by Ruth who had a young lady with her. She introduced her to me as Anita, who had been an exchange high school student in the U.S. and had returned to Germany only the month before. She was very enthusiastic and excited to find a couple of Americans in her home town where she could show them some of the courtesies shown her during her stay in the States. She went right with us as we looked up Alfred's home. When we arrived I found that Alfred was out, and would not be back in town until 8:00 P.M. This was our fault, as we had not been able to contact him. The evening before we tried both to call him and to send him a wire, but he has no phone, and they would not take a wire because we did not have his street or number.

Anita insisted that we remain with her since the Lingen's were not in. She took us to her home, and we learned a great deal about her and her family. She, a sister, and her mother had fled from behind the Iron Curtain. The story is fantastic. At the time shortly following the close of the war she decided to make the escape; she (her mother and two children) mixed in with a group of refugees. She didn't have a passport, and she used a cancelled bankbook to get by the border patrol. Although they have now lived in this particular town for 7 years, which, incidentally, is where their grandmother was born and is still living, they are called refugees, and have very little.

We didn't find Anita's parents home, so we went back to town, where there was a wedding in the little Protestant church. We found the rest of the family here, and all decided to go to the wedding. It was most beautiful, and we enjoyed it very much. We also met Anita's little sister, Heidi. All the men were in silk top hats and formal dress. The family of those to be married all sat in the very front of the church facing the congregation. There were two little flower children, a boy and a girl, and there were four attendants each for the bride and for the groom. In Europe the wedding ring is worn on the left hand while engaged, and when married, is worn on the right hand. Incidentally, Goethe frequented the little church where we were, and often wrote about it.

Huston to Direct Day Camp At Lasell College

Appointment of Warren L. Huston as director of the newly formed Lasell Day Camp was made recently by Raymond C. Wass, president of Lasell Junior College, Auburndale. Lasell is extending its summer program to meet the needs of young children. Professionally supervised activities commonly associated with summer camps will be offered. Lasell's recreation field, gymnasium and outdoor swimming pool present an ideal setting for a program designed to give the child a rich educational, social and recreational experience.

the informed citizen

A Weekly Column written and prepared by the Newton League of Women Voters and devoted to the principle that an informed citizen is a good citizen.

How is the League Program made?

How does the League reach consensus?

These are the two questions most frequently asked by outsiders. They know the League's reputation as a grass-roots organization with a thoroughly democratic process, and they ask: HOW do you do it?

New members in the League ask the same question. And there are hundreds of new members to ask these days, for the League has grown rapidly in the past ten years. In 1945 there were 523 local Leagues and 52,099 members; in 1950, 740 and 93,090; in 1955 there are 985 and 126,747. A survey of the first 500 delegates to register for the 1954 Convention showed that more than half had joined since 1948.

HOW IS THE PROGRAM MADE?

The 1956-58 national Program will be selected by local and state League delegates at the Convention to be held April 30 to May 4 of this year. That vote will be the final step of a process which began in the fall of 1955. Most local Leagues discussed national Program as early as October. Their recommendations had to be sent to the national Board by November 30.

Whatever emerges on the national Program at the coming Convention will be based on the recommendations now in the hands of the national Board.

Members of the national Board are now engaged in studying and analyzing these Program recommendations. At their week's meeting in mid-January they will work out a Proposed Program.

Usually the recommendations made by the most Leagues goes at the top of the list, but this is not mandatory and it is not invariably so. The recommendation must be measured against League principles and purpose, possibilities of political effectiveness, and womanpower and time available. Also to be considered is whether it represents a cross section of thinking, that is, did the recommendation come from various sections of the country, from large and small Leagues, from city and rural Leagues?

The result of this process—one item or two usually—will be the part of the proposed Program that is called the Current Agenda (current government issues for concerted action). The Current Agenda plus Continuing Responsibilities (positions on national issues to which the League has given sustained attention and on which it may continue to take action) plus the Principles (governmental principles supported by the League as a whole) comprise the Program.

The Proposed Program will be sent to the local Leagues by February 15. The local Leagues will go through another round of discussion and by the deadline of April 9 must send to the national Board their recommendations, if any, for changes in the Proposed Program. The national Board evaluates these comments and suggestions and may revise the Proposed Program.

Next comes Convention. Now the proposals are thrashed out among the delegates. Because the delegate body has grown so large, section meetings, diversified as to region, size and type of League, etc. are set up for the purposes of preliminary debate. Then comes floor debate.

The process involved in reaching consensus is as thoroughly democratic, as thoroughly grass-roots, as the program-making process.

First of all, the League takes a national legislative position only on Program-related issues which local Leagues have had a long time to study.

Secondly, no position is taken without a clear-cut mandate from the membership. If there is not a wide area of agreement, that is, unless it is possible to be sure that a position reflects general membership opinion, no position is taken.

Sometimes the League is challenged because it does not poll its members and does not give out figures when it announces consensus. To understand the League's policy one need only consider the representative system of our government. Does a Representative or Senator poll everyone in his constituency when he is preparing to vote on an issue? Of course not, yet he usually has his finger on the pulse of his constituents as a whole. And does everyone vote in an election? Of course not, yet everyone has the chance, and usually those who feel strongly either way on an issue register their opinions.

The League constantly strives to improve its methods of ascertaining membership opinion. Responsibility rests with the local Leagues to express their views; responsibility rests with the national Board to determine the point at which opinion is strong enough to represent the membership as a whole. The amount of participation from the grass roots is extremely high in the League, and the League is willing to stack its system up against the method of any other voluntary organization for interpretation of membership opinion.

DOES THE LEAGUE STAND FOR "MORE AND MORE GOVERNMENT"?

Of course not. The League does not believe that all problems must necessarily be handled by government. The League, however, works ONLY in the field of government, therefore it is obvious that everything on its Program is directly related to government. The League might be for "less" government, that is, for defeat or repeal of a measure, in one case, and "more" government, that is, for passage of measure in another.

Not more and more government, but more and more citizen concern for good government, is the League's purpose. This is true not only at the national level, but also, in fact particularly so, at the state and local levels. No organization has done more to enlist citizen participation than has the League of Women Voters through its local Leagues.

IS THE LEAGUE INTERNATIONALIST?

Yes, and proud of it, if internationalism means cooperation for better understanding among nations. The League has never advocated world government. The United Nations, as the only existing agency that affords a meeting place where nations can come together to discuss common problems, has the support of the League.

In this the League stands shoulder to shoulder with President Eisenhower and former President Truman.

WHAT IS THE LEAGUE PROGRAM ON INDIVIDUAL LIBERTIES?

Because of its dedication to democratic principles, the League long has recognized Communism as a deadly threat to the national security. From its beginning the League has been involved in the free examination and exchange of ideas, recognizing that Communism or any other form of totalitarianism destroys this freedom first of all.

At the 1954 Convention the League decided that the best way it could help strengthen national security was to develop widespread awareness of our American heritage of individual liberties and their relationship to the public interest.

A program to stimulate thoughtful discussion of these subjects is now under way throughout the country. Discussion groups have been held in over 500 communities.

Some factions which are not in favor of free debate on public issues have suggested that these discussions be discontinued. To members familiar with the League's long-standing policy of encouraging thoughtful discussion of public issues, such reactions only serve to point up more clearly the need for continuing these citizen forums.

Newtonite of the Week

By LEWIS PAUL SIMONS

MONTE BASBAS

This week the Graphic is proud to salute City Clerk Monte Basbas of 178 Kirkstall Road, Newtonville.

The functions of Newton's City Clerk are equal to those of a Clerk in a large metropolitan city. To successfully carry out his duties our Clerk must be of high intelligence, dedicated, and well versed in theoretical and practical government. We believe Mr. Basbas has these qualities.

His job falls into four broad categories. He is Clerk of the Board of Aldermen, Clerk of the Registrar of Voters, Workman's Compensation Agent for the city and he is responsible for maintenance of Vital Statistics.

As Clerk of the Board of Aldermen, he attends all Board meetings, and processes petitions, orders and ordinances which are to be presented to the Board. He receives committee reports and prepares the dockets for the Aldermen's meeting.

As Clerk of the Registrar of Voters, Mr. Basbas is responsible for keeping the police and voting records correct, notifying people that they are on or have been taken off the voting list, and helping with election details.

Mr. Basbas has just inaugurated a new procedure in connection with the handling of the police and voting lists which is saving the city many man hours of work, and of course money. The City of Boston has recently sent a committee to study this innovation and they are going to adopt it in Boston.

The position of Workman's Compensation Agent is mainly a legal function dealing with the numerous complicated problems which come under this act.

The Vital Statistics of a city are endless. Records of marriages, births, deaths, bills of sales, mortgages, and contracts must be kept and be readily available when needed.

Monte Basbas has an excellent background for his job. He is a graduate of Dartmouth College where he majored in government. He has a Law Degree from Boston University and is a member of the Massachusetts and New Hampshire Bar Association.

In 1951 Mr. Basbas was appointed Assistant City Clerk by the Board of Aldermen. He was elevated to his present position in 1953 upon the retirement of his predecessor, Frank Grant. He is now serving his second three year term.

Mr. Basbas has managed to fit many outside activities into his busy schedule. He is a past Master of his Masonic Lodge, a member of Kiwanis and Elks, and is Junior Vice-Commander of his American Legion Post. He has served as Advance Gifts Chairman — Newton Highlands and Municipal Division Chairman for the Community Chest.

The prompt service and courteousness received at the Clerk's Office is a testimonial to Mr. Basbas' effectiveness. He is doing a fine job and we are all benefiting because of him.

YMCA To Climax National Observance With Open House Saturday Afternoon

National YMCA Week, being celebrated currently at the Newton YMCA, will reach a climax this Saturday afternoon with an Open House at the YMCA building. All members and friends of the "Y" are invited to attend during some portion of the program which will run from 2:30 to 5 p.m.

Open House has been an annual occasion at the Newton Association usually occurring on New Year's Day. The date has been changed this year to tie in with YMCA Week and it is expected that a large number of people will attend in past years.

There will be many interesting exhibitions and demonstrations for all ages. Movies are scheduled for the auditorium and a hobby show with YMCA youth members displaying their works will also be presented. The chess and stamp clubs will meet and be open to the public.

Gymnasium activities will include an exhibition boys' gym class from Oak Hill; trampoline performers; a volleyball contest; varsity basketball game, Newton vs. Newton Elks; squash match and a handball match between the Newton Y and Fall River Y. In the pool there will be a boys' swimming program and a demonstration of skin diving and use of the aqua-lung.

A highlight of the Open House will be guided tours of the public through the partially completed new Youth Division. These building renovations have been going on for the past few months and should be completed shortly. Refreshments will complete the afternoon and will be served by the Woman's Auxiliary of the Newton YMCA.

Dinner To Be Held Feb. 3

A family ham dinner will feature the mid-winter parish get-together of adults and children of the West Newton Unitarian Church, to be held at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening, February 3, in the parish hall. Sponsored by the Activities Committee, of which Mrs. Henry Whitmore, Jr., is chairman, the dinner will be provided and served by "The Happy Home Makers, Inc." Reservations at a dollar, with fifty cents for children under fourteen accompanied by parents, must be made through the church office by this Friday, Jan. 27, according to the committee. Miss Mildred Bailey, food expert on WCOP, will talk between courses. Following the dinner, the Activities Committee will hold a "swap auction", for which each person is requested to bring a wrapped 50-cent gift.

Mrs. Hans Waine and Mrs. George B. Welch are co-chairmen of the supper committee. Assisting Mrs. Welch in the dining room will be Mrs. Woods Coty, Mrs. Forrest Paige, Mrs. George A. Johnson, Mrs. Robert L. Daniels and Mrs. Gerald Garcelon.

Nine Newton Families Entertain Thirteen Mexican Boys and Girls

Nine Newton families brought Mexico into their homes January 10, when 13 Mexican boys and girls arrived in Boston through the "Experiment in International Living" to stay for three days in homes here, after having lived with families in Bellows Falls, Vermont, for one month. By having a foreign student live with them through the "Experiment," these American families gain an appreciation and understanding of another way of life as well as an awareness of values in their own pattern of living not recognized before.

The Newton hosts were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller, 125 Danehill road, Newton Centre; Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Rothenberg, 59 North street, Newtonville; Mr. and Mrs. William Farrell, 21 Walnut street, Newtonville; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mintz, 50 Beaumont avenue, Newtonville; Dr. and Mrs. Jack Metcalf, 78 Chestnut Hill road, Chestnut Hill; Mr. and Mrs. Michael Canter, 276 Dorset road, Waban; Dr. and Mrs. William Schwartz, 40 Orchard avenue, West Newton; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Arbetter, 105 Fair Oaks avenue, Newtonville; and Mr. and Mrs. Simon Scheff, 40 Orchard avenue, West Newton. The four days were filled with visits to Cambridge, Wellesley, Concord, Boston, and many other points of interest.

The evenings activities were highlighted by a lovely dinner party at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Levine, 40 The Ledges road, Newton Centre, on Wednesday, January 11. After dinner, Maria Stella Pouliot of Mexico City played the guitar, while a group of Americans and Mexicans seated about her sang together. The following night some of the Mexicans with their American hosts spent an exciting evening dancing at the Meadows in Framingham.

The "Experiment," a private non-profit educational institution, has no political or religious affiliations. Its aim is to build up in all countries groups of people who are interested in working for better international understanding on an informal personal basis.

Next summer there will be many "Experimenters" here from various European countries. For those families in Newton who are eager to share with them our wonderful community, contact Mrs. Simon Scheff, 40 Orchard avenue, West Newton, secretary of the Boston Chapter of the "Experiment."

James Remley Discusses Child Study Of Music With Horace Mann PTA

What do you expect your child to get out of his study of music? And what may you expect will really happen? At a recent meeting of the Horace Mann P.T.A., Newtonville, these questions were discussed by James H. Remley, Supervisor of Music in the Newton Public Schools since 1941.

"Between expectations and actual results there is a great gap. The only return you have a right to expect on your investment is that a child gain more and more freedom on the instrument of his choice, become more and more venturesome on improvisations, playing by ear and harmonizing melodies he knows; be willing and eager to tackle new material through sight reading, and have continuing interest in music. The drive to achieve is in the child. Your role is one of understanding and co-operation in this venture.

"Sometimes our expectations are too much. We don't look far enough ahead. Chances for getting on the concert or entertainment stage are small, and usually those who achieve it do so easily. If you have a genius you won't have to worry about it; he will practice without any urging. In trying to force a child to reach a goal you sometimes drive the music right out of him."

Mr. Remley advised that a child have many informal musical experiences before starting an instrument. These might begin with the baby's banging on pots and pans and be directed through experiments with tuned water glasses, homemade drums, and innumerable other means, on to the simplest of manufactured instruments such as the autoharp. Shared family fun with music, both singing and playing, is excellent preparation for study. Parents need not be musically accomplished to manage this.

It is important not to begin lessons too soon, for no youngster will learn until he is ready. And while it has been the belief that children should start serious musical training while they are in the elementary grades, there is increasing evidence that teen-age is the best time to begin. Whatever the age, "take the youngster where he is and lead him along." Parent and music teacher are equally responsible for success or failure. Classroom teachers contribute to the musical training of the child insofar as they feel able to do so. Mr. Remley suggests that much could be done.

SOME DON'TS "As he learns to play, don't hurry him; don't compare him; don't show him off. Don't say anything to discourage him and, above all, don't remind him of how much the lessons are costing you. Don't force him to practice."

In regard to practicing, Mr. Remley recommends planning with a child for his practice period as earnestly as you would plan for a party, and letting the child set the time as well as the length of time best for him; then making sure that other members of the family honor this period and keep it free from interruption and nagging. "One child can accomplish in ten minutes what it would take another child an hour to do."

If cost were no obstacle and if enough teachers could be engaged in musical instruction, it would be possible to institute what Mr. Remley feels is the right situation for the beginner; that is, no practicing at home; instead, two or three lessons a week so that, by practicing with the teacher, a child would be put on his own only after he had really got some power in what he was doing.

In reply to a question dealing with the child who is discouraged and will not practice, the child who wants to give up, Mr. Remley advised having a talk with the teacher and suggesting that the child stay where he is for awhile, that you are not in a hurry. If the decision is made to discontinue the study of an instrument it is best to complete the term of lessons. Try not to destroy what interest remains. Perhaps the child will transfer to something else. Perhaps not. But don't add to his discouragement. Don't mention money. Nothing is lost. If the child does not become a music performer he may become a consumer.

Mr. Remley would take music off its pedestal. "The music of the ukulele player who plays for enjoyment is as important in his own life as the musician-ship of the symphony player. He entertains himself and his friends and stays out of trouble."

"Furthermore, the sharing of music with our children is a way of spending time with them. It is well if the parent goes along with the music lessons with children or arranges in some way to play with them. Children need us and need to know we love them. This is one way to show them that we are interested in them."

Mr. Remley tested the members of the audience for musical ability by giving them the parts of the Seashore Test which are used for Newton's fourth-graders. Although the Music Staff does not have time to utilize this test to its fullest, they use it as a guide in advising parents as to a child's chances of success on a musical instrument, as well as limitations of choice.

At the business meeting President Russell F. Gooley presided. Attention was called to the need for a new piano in the auditorium and for a classroom piano.

Co-chairmen of the Ways and Means Committee are Mrs. Francis T. Keefe, 25 Randlett Park, and Mrs. James L. Hogsett, Jr., 20 Parsons street; they will be assisted by Mrs. E. J. Callanan, Jr., 651 Watertown street. Their first project is a Military Whist to be held February 14.

Mrs. Dwight L. Rideout, 107 Lowell avenue, is Hospitality Chairman for this year. Refreshments were served by Mrs. F. R. Henry, 55 Page road, and Mrs. Jack Hoover, 806 Watertown street.

Enthusiastic About Growth Of Brazil

Home on leave from his post with the U. S. overseas Information Agency in Sao Paulo, Brazil, Leroy J. Benoit, born in Newton, was enthusiastic about potential growth of Brazil.

Exhibited were peaceful uses of atomic energy in medicine, agriculture and industry. Desire to study in the United States was stimulated in many Brazilian students, as a result of the exhibition.

Previous to Mr. Benoit's assignment with the U. S. overseas Information Agency, he was an instructor at Harvard and assistant professor at Amherst College and Johns Hopkins University.

He was appointed cultural affairs officer and attaché at Lisbon, Portugal in March, 1951, and was transferred by the Information Agency to Sao Paulo in October, 1953.

She spoke of the fine work accomplished by UNESCO in Latin America, also the problems and work of the many Specialized Agencies. The Oak Hill School P.T.A., through its Health & Safety Committee, is continuing its campaign to acquaint residents with the urgency of obeying the state school bus law. This regulation requires that all vehicles, in either direction, stop when a school bus stops.

The campaign has been marked by repeating the law at general P.T.A. meetings during Education Week, written notices mailed to the parents and circulated among residents without schoolage children and a request to the police department for more state law signs in strategic areas. Action has again been prompted by two near accidents within the last month to children on Parker street. The P.T.A. ### TELEVIEWING THE NEWS

By LEE LOUMOS

Occasionally you'll hear a television set owner comment that every time his TV set develops trouble, it has the same symptoms. How come? If it is the same part that's breaking down every time?

Probably not. A television is an immensely complex instrument... more so by far than anything else in your home. There are a good many more than 1000 component parts, and each one is dependent on the other. Dozens of things can go wrong with the set that will have the same apparent symptoms, so it could be a different part breaking down and yet the trouble might look the same to the naked eye.

On the other hand, there are certain parts in the chassis that take more strain than others... rectifier tubes, for instance, that continually are subjected to very high voltage. These might tend to burn out faster than some of the other small tubes... although even these last for a surprisingly long time.

It's improbable that there's a basic weakness in a certain part of your set's circuits, one which causes particular tubes to burn out regularly. But it could happen. Your best bet is to ask your TV service technician. From a careful examination of your set and its trouble, he'll be able to give you the right answer. Call on our technicians... for the right answer in TV service.

Raytheon Honors Veteran Employees

Veteran employees of Raytheon Manufacturing Company were honored last night at a banquet attended by approximately 150 members of the Waltham electronics firm's Quarter Century Club. Eighteen members were welcomed to the ranks and were presented with gold watches by Charles F. Adams, Jr., president, while 83 previously honored employees participated in the ceremonies.

Mr. Adams, in paying tribute to the service records of the Quarter Century Club members, said, "To reach the milestone of 25 years' service with a company—any company—is a distinction indeed. These are times of impermanence, when values that once were considered steadfast are now whisked away in the twinkling of an eye. You are living proof of a core of permanence and loyalty within the company. You are an assurance to younger workers that there is much contentment and fulfillment to a working life spent with one company."

Joseph Weizer of West Newton, president of the club, responded in behalf of the 112 members, their wives and husbands, including 3 women and 5 men admitted this year. They were: Elmer J. Gorn, 34 Laidholm road, Newton; Ruth E. Babb, 16 Harrison street, Newton Highlands; Elizabeth C. Shea, 15 Linnaean street, Cambridge; Charles L. Charette, 1 Gardner street, Salem; Wendell D. Fuller, 70 Beechwood avenue, Watertown; Anna M. Naudeau, 265 Brown street, Waltham; James R. Nelson, 48 Wright street, Arlington; Carl W. Spurr, 200 Bacon street, Waltham.
